Campaign to Recall Men Who Voted Against Chief To Be Launched Saturday

Caucus of 152 Citizens, Friends of Beavers, Adopts as Slogan at Last Night's Meeting, "The Redemption of a Righteous Man Crucified."

CALL MASS MEETING FOR SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE AUDITORIUM

Robert A. Broyles Elected Permanent Chairman and J. J. Logan Secretary. Lawyers Who Represented Beavers Before Board Received No Fees.

Adopting as their slogan "The redemption of a righteous man crucified," a caucus of 152 citizens was held last night at room 500 of the Austell building, in the office of J. N. McEachern, when plans were made for a mass meeting of citizens Saturday night at the Auditorium-Armory to determine on a campaign to recall all members of the police board who voted Tuesday afternoon to demote James L. Beavers from chief of police to captain.

Attorneys James L. Key, Walter McElreath and George Westmoreland, who represented Beavers, together with City Attorney James L. Mayson, were direct to draft recall petitions to be circulated at the mass meeting, and later circulated among the voters of the city. Those behind the proposed recall will attempt to get the necessary 25 per cent of the registered voters and thereby secure the recall election. According to the registration, 4,000 names will be required.

R. A. BROYLES MADE CHAIRMAN.

Robert A. Broyles was elected permanent chairman of the meeting and J. J. Logan secretary. Several committees were named to work out the details for the meeting, to secure the speakers and arrange for a brass band to parade the streets and furnish music at the meeting.

By a vote of the body the ladies of the city will be invited.

The recommendation of a meeting held by about seventy-five citizens Wednesday night was that only Mayor Woodward and Captain James W. English, member of the police board, be recalled. Some favored a single shot at the mayor, but after last night's discussion it was unanimously voted to work for the recall of the following: Mayor Woodward, Councilman Edwin Johnson, Commissioners J. W. English, W. P. Fain, A. R. King, R. T. Pace and Robert Clark.

"I am here representing the tenth ward, which is proud of its members in general council, for they always vote right, but I can practically assure this body that the tenth will vote solidly to recall Woodward and every man that voted to remove Chief Beavers," said A. F. Todd, in addressing the meeting.

Chairman Broyles declared that the caucus represented the "upheaval of a people incensed at the crucifixion of a righteous man." He said the purpose of the meeting last night and of the mass meeting scheduled for Saturday night is "The redemption of a righteous man crucified."

"We cannot afford to go after one or two of the commissioners, but must go after all of them," declared James M. Hallowell. "If we seek to recall one the others will flock to him."

Alvin Richards, an attorney associated with City Attorney James L. Mayson, declared that "if Woodward and English voted wrong and should be recalled, the other five should be dealt with accordingly."

FILES LIST OF NAMES.

Sam Sheppard, deputy sheriff, but formerly a member of the police force, who resigned after having charges preferred against him by former Chief Beavers, filed with the secretary a list of one hundred names of voters he said had agreed to sign a petition for a recall. The names were secured Thursday.

James Reeves filed a list of fifty names of voters he had secured who pledged to vote for a recall. "Every one of those men are ready to go after Woodward, and I can get hundreds of others," said Mr. Reeves.

Several others also filed lists of voters who had agreed to vote for a recall, among them being several city officials.

It became known at the caucus that the attorneys for Beavers received no fees whatever for their services in the trial, and both Attorneys McElreath and Key were given an ovation and later a rising vote of thanks by the body when they announced this fact.

"I represented Chief Beavers without a fee and without hope of future reward," announced Mr. McElreath. "With other counsel for Chief Beavers, I acted as a patriotic citizen enlisted for war. I represented the decency and high moral standards of Atlanta.

ALL PULL TOGETHER.

"We ought not to recall one or two of the commissioners—we ought to recall all of the seven," declared Mr. McElreath. "I'm sick and tired of hacking on old Jim Woodward. Why jump on the most vulnerable?

"By starting a recall against one or two you will place the others in a position of safety, where they can lend their assistance to their friends on the board without having anything aimed at them.

"If you will pull together, present a

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR W. & A. BILLS

Extra Session Will Very Probably Not Be Necessary—Appropriations Bill Still Before House.

The ability of the house yesterday to stop filibustering and get down to the business of considering the appropriations bill was regarded by the administration as one of the most encouraging developments of the last week for the passage of the Western and Atlantic and other pressing matters.

While it cannot yet be said with absolute certainty that the legislature will be able to dispose of all the Western and Atlantic legislation before adjournment, the outlook is so encouraging that it did not seem Thursday afternoon that Governor Harris will find it necessary to send his expected special message to the assembly upon the Western and Atlantic situation or to call an extra session of the general assembly.

One-half Bill Completed.

The afternoon session of the house saw approximately one-half of the appropriations bill disposed of. It will be taken up again today and will probably be finished this afternoon or Saturday. This bill must reach the senate not later than Monday to be passed at this session.

The bills, both house and senate, to prevent the state road being paralleled are next on the calendar, fixed by the rules committee, the house bills coming first.

It is not regarded as probable that these bills will be reached before Saturday.

Whenever these bills do reach the house, however, it is likely that the senate bills will be made the basis of action of the house so that any action the house may take may be referred to the senate for concurrence as late as the last day of the session, if necessary.

Should the senate bills thus form the basis, it is likely that they will forestall any further possibility of action on prohibtion by the house this year, since the discussion upon the senate bills could be made to consume practically the entire of the remainder of this session.

The failure of the passage of a "parallel" measure, it is understood, would be the only consideration under which Governor Harris would now call an extra session of the assembly.

Every Item Debated.

If the house does not make any more progress with the general appropriation bill than it did Thursday, it will be a tight squeeze to get it through, however.

Every item is being debated at length. The first part of the bill was easy sailing because it dealt with legal requirements as to salaries and expenses of statehouse officials. But the house, resolved into the committee of the whole, is considering appropriations for state institutions, and there is a determined effort on the part of some members to keep the expenditures down. So far these members have succeeded in preventing any increases.

At the afternoon session the committee of the whole took up the appropriation of $60,000 for the state university. An amendment to make the amount $55,000 was lost. The same fate met an amendment to give the institution $52,500. Finally an amendment making the appropriation $50,000 was adopted.

This means that the university is to get $2,500 less than it did this year.

Speaks Against Appropriation.

Mr. Conger, of Decatur, opened the debate, speaking against the appropriation of $60,000. It was his maiden speech in the house and he acquitted himself well.

A paragraph appropriating $14,314.14 was voted for to pay the interest on the land script and on the university debt. The only reason that this was not cut was because it was required by law.

There was a fight on the appropriation of $5,000 for the teachers' summer training school at Athens. The amount was finally voted for.

Then came the appropriation of $100,000 for the school of technology. Mr. Davis, of Laurens, offered an amendment to make the amount $90,000. Messrs. Culpepper of Meriwether, Heath of Burke, Davidson of Putnam, and Anderson of Clay, offered an amendment to make the appropriation $80,000. Messrs. Yeomans of Terrell, and Dorsett of Carroll, had an amendment to make the amount $75,000.

Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, made a plea for the Tech and said it was the Commission to Extend W. & A. to Sea Proposed in Bill by Senator Harrison

The cut of the St. Mary river and surrounding land shows the district from which it is proposed to cut a harbor to be used as the seaboard terminus of the Western and Atlantic.

For the purpose of creating a commission to investigate plans for extending the Western and Atlantic railroad from Atlanta to the sea, Senator William Terrell Harrison, of Yatesville, Ga., has introduced a bill in the upper house of the general assembly.

The bill is state-wide in its importance. It would empower the commission, which would report at the next session, to investigate all real estate owned by the state ot the mouth of the St. Mary's river, on Cumberland sound, "which, by reason of its proximity to deep water, could be available for deep water ocean terminals of the Western and Atlantic railroad."

The commission would ascertain the accessibility of such real estate to ocean vessels and the number of miles to the open sea, as well as the superficial area and depth of the intervening waters.

Will Find Out Cost.

"Said commission," provides Senator Harrison's bill, "shall furnish like information as to the nearest water front property to that which may be owned by the state, and the cost, as near as may be, of purchasing other property more advanced in development, of equal facility for use as deep-water terminals for the Western and Atlantic railroad."

So broad is the scope of the bill that it not only considers the internal development of the state, but further provides that the commission shall inquire into opportunities offered by South American trade, and into possibilities of coastwise service between the Georgia terminus of the proposed road and the port of New York.

The measure calls upon the commission to "make inquiry as to the practicability and advisability of establishing, in connection with said extension, a steamship line or lines, to perform the coastwise service, the number of ships that would probably be required and the probable cost of a commerical

The diagram of the state shows a likely line which may be cut through the counties indicated. The road would be new in its extension below Atlanta. The road would pass through the following Towns: Forsyth, Barnesville, Fort Valley, Perry, Hawkinsville, Abbeville, Douglas, Waycross, Kingsland, Scottsville and St. Mary's.

STAND OF CHANCELLOR ON ANNEXATION RAPPED

Wing of German Party Attacks Him as Too Conservative.

Berlin, August 5.—(Via London, August 6, 2:44 a. m.)—Sharp conflict is in progress within the leading circles of the national liberal party owing to the action of a wing of the party in conducting a campaign of attack against Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor.

The campaign centers around the supposed attitude of the chancellor on the question of annexation of territory and the final settlement of the war, his assailants assuming that he is not ready to go to the lengths in this direction which they and their backers consider justified.

Ernst Basserman, the German party leader; Herr Hersch, member from the Essen district, and Dr. Gustav Stressman, a functionary in various industrial and business organizations, who was defeated as a candidate at the general reichstag elections, but who later obtained a seat at a bye election in Hanover, are the active leaders in the anti-Bethmann-Hollweg campaign.

Behind them stand many prominent persons who favor most sweeping annexations. The attitude of the opposing, and apparently stronger faction of the party, is laid down in an inspired article in The Leipzig Tageblatt, a party organ.

This wing, according to the newspaper, holds that "the public utterances of the chancellor afford no ground for the assumption that he is pursuing a weak policy, based on illusions, and is not serving the interests of the empire." It declares that the attacks merely serve to injure his prestige abroad and hamper him in exactly that vigorous policy which is demanded from him.

"A meeting of the executive committee of the party has been called. At it a resolution expressing complete confidence in the chancellor probably will be passed."

THREE TOTS DIE IN FIRE; SEVEN COTTAGES BURNED

Delavan, Wis., August 5.—Three children burned to death, six cottages were destroyed and a seventh dynamited to save others in a fire at Lake Delavan, a resort near here, early today. The fire was brought under control in time to save a number of summer hotels. The dead are Helen, Lucy and Mary Bryant, children of George G. Bryant, president of the Racine Rubber company, in whose cottage the fire is believed to have started from an overheated chimney. Because of the cold weather grate fires have been lighted in the cottages for several nights.

The Elkhorn, Lake Geneva and Delavan fire departments hastened to the resort at the first alarm and their united efforts were needed to save the cottages and hotels that were in the path of the flames. The bedrooms in which the children slept were cut off by flames and smoke. The financial loss was small.

No Loafing on Job For City Officials These Parlous Days

So Many Heads Have Fallen Since First of the Year That the Uneasy Bench Is Crowded to Capacity.

With half a dozen city officials already decapitated during the past nine months, those who have been fortunate enough to retain their offices are speculating over who will be next.

Following the decapitation of Dan Carey, park manager, and Judge Preston, recorder pro tem., general council trained its guns on J. L. Harrison, many years of the city tax assessors, and when the ballots were cast, he was deposed.

The board of education saw fit to make a change in its school management, and Superintendent William M. Slaton was removed.

Following a spirited contest, W. B. Cummings, many years with the fire department, six years as chief, was removed; Chief Bill Cody replaced him.

The next step was taken by the police board, resulting in the trial of Chief James L. Beavers, who was demoted to the office of captain, which he has refused.

"This action of the city fathers has had the effect of spurring on the department heads and assistants to a degree that is certain to mean better service for the public," observed one official Thursday. "It is certain to make us walk more circumspectly. I wonder if there is anything prophetic in this upheaval."

SWEET FEMININITY DARKER AND TALLER IN EUGENIC FUTURE

San Francisco, August 5.—Taller, darker women clothed in more sensible dress will typify the "eugenic woman" of the future, Dr. A. J. Read, professor of hygiene in the Normal School of Physical Education at Battle Creek, Mich., today told the international conference on race betterment at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

"The ideal woman of the eugenic age will be plump and well rounded but not fat," said Dr. Read. "Her complexion will be ruddy or brown, not pale as that of present day women, because the pale skin is a badge of disease rather than of health.

"Present day fashions are advancing toward health fashions. Women's dress is much more sensible in dress. The hygienic dress, however, should be suspended from the shoulders, leaving the waist free."

Dr. David Starr Jordan said the European conflict is draining Europe of its best blood and will leave its impression upon several generations.

URGES U. S. TO PURCHASE COTTON FOR EXPLOSIVES

In Letter to Wilson, McLaurin Suggests Government Buy 2,000,000 Bales.

Charleston, S. C., August 4.—The purchase of two million bales of cotton by the United States government for the manufacture of explosives is suggested to President Wilson by John L. McLaurin, formerly United States senator from South Carolina and now state warehouse commissioner, in a letter made public here tonight.

In suggesting the purchase, Mr. McLaurin holds that it would be a good investment for the government in view of plans for strengthening the nation's defenses and that at the same time it would stabilize the cotton market.

Another plan proposed by Mr. McLaurin is that Great Britain and her allies buy at least two million bales. Such a course, he declares, would help "in changing the trend of sentiment setting strongly against England, especialy in the south," in addition to the benefit it would be to the cotton grower.

Unless some extraordinary effort is made to care for this year's crop, Mr. McLaurin says he believes the price of the staple will be as low as it was last season when the effect of the European war was first felt.

NEW ANTISEPTIC MAKES INFECTION IMPOSSIBLE

Paris, August 5.—Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institue of Medical Research, and Dr. Henry D. Dakin, of the Lister institute, have discovered after exhaustive experiment at the Compeigne military hospital, what they claim to be the ideal antiseptic.

The most powerful antiseptic known to science is hypochlorite of lime, but its use is injurious and it does not keep. Doctors Dakin and Carrel have found these two defects are remedied, respectively, by the addition of carbonate of lime and boric acid.

Wonderful results have been obtained with the new antiseptic and if applied in time it is said to make infection in wounds henceforth impossible.

Professor Landouzy explained the new antiseptic to the academy of science whose members agreed that the discovery would be of great importance in surgery.

LIGHTNING PLAYS PECULIAR PRANK

Columbus, Ga., August 5.—(Special.) Dr. Ashby Floyd, mayor of Phenix City, Ala., had a close call when lightning struck an electric wire at his residence. The current traveled down the wire and leaping from the end of a drop cord to a bed on which he was lying tore a large hole in the mattress. He was not even shocked, although the bedding was considerably damaged.

AMERICAS UNITE TO DEMAND PEACE IN RIVEN MEXICO

Decision to Send Stiff Note to Warring Factions Made at Pan-American Conference in Washington.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS PLEDGED SUPPORT

Message Intended Especially for Carranza and Followers Who Oppose Another Peace Convention.

Washington, August 5.—Armed factions in Mexico are to be given one more opportunity to say whether they are ready to make an honest effort among themselves to compose their differences.

A message expressing the concerted demand of North and South America that there shall be peace and restoration of constitutional government, addressed to all the Mexican political and military leaders, probably will be dispatched within a few days as one of the first results of a conference at the state department today in which the six ranking diplomats of the Pan-American legation corps participated with Secretary Lansing at the invitation of President Wilson.

While the appeal will be made to all the Mexican leaders, it will be intended especially for General Carranza and his followers, who oppose another peace convention.

Support Pledged Wilson.

It was disclosed that President Wilson has been in correspondence with the executives of the Latin-American nations who have urged that the United States take the lead in a strong position toward Mexico and in this informal way have pledged their support to a Pan-American concert of action.

Today's conference was given over almost entirely to hearing a report of conditions by Paul Fuller, Sr., of New York, who spent several months in Mexico as President Wilson's personal representative. It was understood the ground work was laid for further action tomorrow, when the conference will be resumed, which will constitute the first of a succession of moves to end three years of revolution and chaos.

No action was agreed on today and it was understood that armed intervention was not mentioned. Plainly it was the intention of the conference to exhaust peaceful means to bring the Mexican factions together, following closely what has been the administration policy from the first, and to make it clear to the world that there is no object other than the preservation of the sovereignty of Mexico and to save the distracted country from itself.

Conference Kept Secret.

At the conference's conclusion the Latin-American diplomats uniformly stated they had accepted the invitation with the stipulation that discussion should be confidential until a program had been perfected. Secretary Lansing, speaking for all present, said:

"I have absolutely nothing to say about today's proceedings. The informal conference will be resumed tomorrow afternoon. For the diplomats who were present I will say that they came into the conference with the distinct understanding that it was to be held absolutely confidential and secret."

Meeting with Secretary Lansing were Ambassadors Naon, of Argentina; Dagama, of Brazil, and Suarez, of Chile, and Ministers Mendez, of Guatemala; Calderon, of Bolivia, and Depena, of Uruguay. The ambassadors were invited because they were the mediators who attempted to settle Mexican affairs at the Niagara conference last summer. The ministers are the three ranking members of the Latin-American legation corps.

Before a program is adopted those who attended today's conference will submit it to their governments, and before it is put into effect all the pan-American nations will be asked for their approval. None of the Mexican factions was represented in today's conference.

Opposition By Carranza.

Before entering the meeting each of the Latin-American diplomats was notified on behalf of General Carranza that it would be futile to suggest restoring the constitutional line of government in Mexico by choosing a member of the Madero cabinet for provisional president, which has been suggested by some of the other factions, notably General Villa. Herberto Barron, a special emissary from General Carranza, presented to each of the diplomats today Carranza's letter of some weeks ago to President Wilson, setting forth his claim to the presidency.

This indicated that General Carranza had anticipated the probable purpose of the conference and had acted promptly to place on record his opposition to stepping aside. One of the outstanding views of the administration has been that the forces which first composed the constitutionalist movement had now become so widely separated by factional differences that it might be necessary for all the military chiefs to step aside. General Carranza's notice that he was unwilling to do this presented the first obstacle of the conference and plainly its importance was not underestimated.

One point on which there seemed to be unanimous agreement was that

Though Grand Duke Has So Far Escaped Teuton Trap, It Is Doubtful if His Entire Force Will Reach New Positions and Be Able to Defend Them.

ALL RUSSIAN STORES AND HEAVY ARTILLERY ARE REMOVED TO REAR

That Germany Will Next Attack Serbia for Purpose of Impressing the Balkan States Is Opinion of Some Military Experts--Teutons Gain in West.

London, August 5.—The Germans hold Warsaw, capital of Poland, and the third largest city in the Russian empire. Bavarian troops entered the city this morning, having taken successively the Blonie lines and the outer and inner fortresses of the city itself, the Russians fighting only rear guard action to allow their main army to escape.

While to the Bavarians under Prince Leopold has fallen the honor of taking over Warsaw in the name of the German emperor and his consort, who are expected to make a state entry within a few days, the real conquerors are Von Hindenburg's troops, fighting along the Narew river to the northeast; the Austro-Germans who crossed the Vistula to the south of the city and the armies of the Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and the German Field Marshal von Mackensen advancing northward between the Vistula and Bug rivers.

GERMANS SUFFERING SEVERE LOSSES.

The Russians are fighting desperately and stubbornly to check the progress of these four armies and have had several successes, inflicting heavy losses on their pursuers; but they are being steadily pressed back, which made the longer occupation of the Warsaw Polish salient a hazardous undertaking.

Even now, although the steadiness of the Russian troops and their fierce counter attacks have gained much valuable time for them, it is problematical whether the whole Russian army will reach new positions chosen or whether, if it should get there, it will not find those positions turned by the Austrians who have crossed the Bug southeast of Cholm and the Germans under Von Scholz and Von Gallwitz, who have crossed the Narew.

At the northeastern end of the line the Russian communications are further threatened by General von Buelow, advancing toward Dvinsk on the Vilna-Petrograd railway. Indeed, the Austro-Germans have set three traps to catch and destroy the Russian army. None of them was sprung, but one was so near to closing that Grand Duke Nicholas was forced to evacuate Warsaw and now is fighting with all his might to prevent the others from cutting off his retreat.

ONLY FEW RUSSIANS TAKEN PRISONERS.

Thus far he seemingly has been successful, for although the Germans claim the capture of many prisoners, the aggregate is small when compared with the immense forces engaged. In addition the Russian guns apparently are well on their way to the rear.

From refugees who left Warsaw some days ago and have arrived at Moscow, it has been learned that Warsaw even at that early date had been denuded of virtually everything that might be useful to the Teutons. Factories had been stripped of their machinery and all war stores moved into the interior of Russia, and the government of the city left to the Polish population.

The Russians also are preparing to evacuate Riga, in the north. The arrival of the Germans ten miles south of that city already has been the cause of the civilian population departing.

While expressing the fullest confidence in the future, the British military critics make no attempt to belittle the achievements of the Teutons or the effect their success is likely to have in the near east and the west.

Since early in May when they started their great counter-offensive in western Galicia against the Russians, who were debouching through the Carpathians onto the plains of Hungary, the troops of the Germanic powers had cleared the Russians out of Galicia, with the exception of a narrow strip of territory in the southwest, have recaptured Przemysl and Lemberg, taken Lublin, Cholm and Warsaw, and are in military occupation of virtually the whole of Poland.

KAISER MAY NEXT TURN ON SERBIA.

What their next move will be is a matter of conjecture. Some military observers believe they will continue to attack the Russians in the hope of finally crushing them, a task considered difficult by the fact that the Russians in their retreat lay the country waste.

Others of the observers think Serbia will be attacked to impress the Balkan states, while still others look for a big offensive in the west. All of the observers are of the opinion that wherever the new operation is begun it will be on a big scale.

The Germans also have had local successes in the west, recapturing, on the crest of the line in the Vosges, a portion of the trenches which the French took from them some time ago.

BAVARIAN TROOPS BREAK INTO WARSAW.

Berlin, August 5.—(By Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.)—Warsaw was taken this morning by German troops, according to official announcement made at German army headquarters.

Yesterday and last night Bavarian troops, under the command of Prince Leopold, broke through the forts of the outer and inner lines of the city's defenses, where the rear guards of the Russian troops made a tenacious resistance.

Continuing, the report from headquarters says:

"The German armies under General von Scholz and General von Gallwitz advanced in the direction of the road between Lomza, Ostrov and Vyszkov and fought a number of violent engagements. The brave and desperate resistance of the Russians on both sides of the road between Ostrov and Rozan was without success.

4,840 Russians Captured.

"Twenty-two Russian officers and 4,840 soldiers were taken prisoner. The Germans also captured 17 machine guns.

"German cavalry yesterday and the day before defeated in Courland detachments of Russian cavalry at points near Genaize, Birschi and Oniskszhty. A total of 2,225 Russian prisoners were taken.

"The situation near and to the north of Ivangorod remains unchanged.

"The campaign is being continued between the upper Vistula river and the River Bug. German cavalrymen have entered Wladimir-Wolynsk, on the Bug river.

"In the Vosges there has been a new engagement near the Lingekopf."

TEUTONS PURSUING RETREATING RUSSIANS.

Vienna, August 5.—(Via London, August 6, 1:10 a. m.)—The war office this evening made public the following official communication:

"Russian theater: The long series of successes of the Germanic allies since the May battle on the Dunajec in Galicia and in southern and northern Poland and the Baltic provinces have now been crowned by the occupation of Warsaw.

"Today the German troops of the army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria marched into the capital of Russian Poland.

"Between the Vistula and the Bug, both of the allies are advancing to the north in pursuit of the Russians. The Austro-Hungarian cavalry has reached Usciluz (on the right bank of the Bug to the west of Vladimir-Wolynsk) and the German cavalry Vladimir-Wolynsk. Otherwise the situation is unchanged.

Italian Theater.

"On the Tyrolean front the only great battle is in the region of Monte Croce. An attack by several battalions of the Italian Ninety-second infantry regiment commenced yesterday morning on Nemesalpe, northeast of Monte Croce. It was bloodily repulsed.

"The enemy retreated, partially in flight, in the woods south of the border brook. In order to release these Italian forces other troops attempted an afternoon surprise attack of the Kofel position, north of Monte Groce, but it was repulsed after a short battle with a loss of about 100 men killed. The commander of the battalion and several other officers fell into our hands. Our losses were not important.

"In the region of Gorizia the Italians have maintained since yesterday afternoon a heavy artillery fire on our position on the plateau of Doberdo. When hostile infantry from Sagrade and south of Sdraussina attempted an attack they were shot down by our artillery.

"On the other fronts there is nothing important to report."

WARSAW ABANDONED, ADMITS PETROGRAD.

Petrograd, Via London, August 6.—(6:45 a. m.)—An official communication just issued here says:

"In view of conditions and the general situation our troops west of Warsaw have received orders to fall back on the right bank of the Vistula."

"According to reports received this order was carried out and the troops which were covering Warsaw retired at 5 o'clock this (Thursday) morning without being attacked, toward the new front assigned to them.

"They blew up behind them all the bridges over the Vistula."

GERMANS CAPTURE FRENCH TRENCHES.

Paris, August 5.—The French war department today gave out the following:

"In the Artois district around Souchez there took place last night fairly spirited engagements with grenades and bombs, as well as with artillery. There were also fairly active artillery exchanges at Tracy-le-Val, and in the vicinity of Vailly, in the valley of the Aisne.

"In the Argonnes the night passed with much activity. There was rifle firing and the throwing of bombs from trench to trench, together with artillery firing on several different occasions.

"On the heights of the Meuse, at Bois Haut, a German attack was easily checked.

"In the Vosges last night there was a continued and very severe bombardment of our trenches at Lingekopf. Yesterday evening German forces delivered a very violent attack against the French positions at this point, but in spite of this, and with the exception of some trenches on the crest of the Lingekopf, we retained all our ground."

ITALIAN FORCES RESUME ADVANCE.

Rome, August 4.—(Via Paris, August 5.)—The following statement was issued tonight at the headquarters of the Italian general staff:

"Our heavy batteries directed an effective fire on the station of Borgo, on the railroad in Val Sugana, where there is an important freight traffic.

"The enemy's losses in stubborn attacks on Mount Medatta, in Carnia, now are found to have been very grave.

"On the Carso plateau, the night of the 3d passed quietly. During the morning our artillery shelled masses of infantry observed near Marcettini and columns marching along the road from Rupa to Doberao. Our troops, having resumed their advance, the left wing and center made slow progress, but on the right we confined ourselves to maintaining positions previously occupied.

"The enemy attempted vainly to recapture ground held by us on Monte Seibusi, but was beaten off with heavy losses."

RUSSIANS RETREATING BEFORE THE TURKS.

Constantinople, August 4.—(Via London, August 5.)—The following official statement was issued at the war office tonight relative to the operations of the army of the Caucasus:

"Our troops heavily attacked the enemy's rear guard, which took positions in the neighborhood of Hamur in order to protect the retreat of their main force. Our troops pursued the enemy and occupied the region."

FRENCH WARSHIPS SHELL TURK TOWNS.

Paris, August 5.—French warships on August 3 bombarded Sighadjik, on the coast of Anatolia, and destroyed the customs house and part of the fortifications.

On the day following an armored cruiser bombarded the fortifications of the Turkish quarter of Scala Nova and a fortified point west of that town, while the other vessels of the squadron shelled and destroyed the village of Spelia, supposed to be a supply depot for submarines of France's antagonists.

The foregoing information is contained in a statement given out today by the French minister of marine.

BLOODY ENGAGEMENTS OCCUR IN VESGES.

Paris, August 5.—Tonight's war office statement said:

"There has been moderate artillery activity on the western part of the front. In the Argonne the struggle with bombs and petards, as well as the cannonading, continues, but with less intensity on the part of the enemy.

"A violent bombardment has occurred in the forest of Apremont. In the Vosges sanguinary engagements have been fought on the heights which dominate the Fecht to the north, particularly at the Col du Schratzmannels, where the enemy, after having taken one of our blockhouses, was driven out by an immediate counter attack. Our fire inflicted on the Germans very heavy losses."

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR W. & A. BILLS

greatest institution in the state, and ought to be given every dollar possible.

Bale for Tech.

Mr. Bale, of Floyd, stated that the people of Georgia wanted the Tech to be taken care of and that to take care of it meant the training of the boys of the state so they may go out into the world and earn an independent living.

Mr. Knight, of Berrien, spoke against the increased appropriation.

Judge Spencer R. Atkinson, of Fulton, made a masterful speech for the Tech. During the course of his remarks he said:

"We are here for the welfare of the state and not to indulge in oratory. I refute the statement that Georgia is on the verge of bankruptcy. We live in the grandest state in the union and one that I believe will take care of its institutions of learning. Our institutions of learning should not be subject to criticism and ridicule.

"There is nothing so valuable in life to a man as to know how to do some one thing better than anybody else. That is what the Tech does. The world is looking for the man who knows how, and if he doesn't know how he will settle down to the bottom. When the boys walk out of the Tech they know how and can demand recognition anywhere.

"The city of Atlanta has given $75,000 and the manufacturers of the north $125,000 to give Georgia a great plant, and all the state is asked to do is to appropriate enough to operate that plant. The increase asked for is only $10,000, and I tell you, gentlemen of the house, it is the part of wisdom to give that amount."

Mr. Davis, of Laurens, speaking for his amendment to make the appropriation $90,000, took the floor and was speaking when the hour of adjournment arrived.

Morning Session.

The morning session of the house was taken up in the consideration of three items in the general appropriation bill for the years 1916 and 1917, the appropriations for the Soldiers' home, the state sanitarium for consumptives and the state university.

The appropriation for the Soldiers' home was made $36,000, the same as this year, when the committee had made it $50,000.

The appropriation for the sanitarium for consumptives was placed at $20,000. The committee had it down for $30,000. It was $25,000 this year.

The house adjourned for the afternoon while the appropriation for the state university was still under consideration. The institution was given $52,500 this year. The committee made the amount $60,000. The trustees asked for $65,000.

May Resume Filibuster.

As soon as the house was called to order it resolved itself into the committe of the whole, and it was known that there was to be no filibuster until after the general appropriation bill has been disposed of. It is expected, however, that peace is not permanent, but only a truce for the passage of the appropriations bill, and perhaps a Western and Atlantic "parallel" measure. This is in view of the expression of the resolution adopted in the prohibition caucus of Tuesday, holding that the pripciple for which they are fighting is of more importance than pending legislation.

There was a reminder of the filibuster when Judge Hopkins, of Thomas county, arose to a question of personal privilege. He read a statement credited to a minority anti-prohi leader published in an afternoon paper, which laid the blame for the waste of time on the temperance advocates.

After denying this, Judge Hopkins read the following statement:

"I dare the gentlemen who are said to be responsible for this statement, if it should have any foundation, which I doubt, to enter into a gentleman's agreement with us by which the passage of the bill to prevent the paralleling of the state road will be made certain without affecting the status of the prohibition measures by dilatory tactics, filibuster or otherwise."

Mr. Fullbright, of Burke, moved that when the house adjourned it would meet again at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and remain in session until 5 o'clock for the consideration of the general appropriation bill. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Appropriations Are Cut.

The appropriation for the Soldiers' home was taken up, and after much debate was made $36,000 instead of $50,000, as it appeared in the committee's report.

A fight was made on the state sanitarium for the treatment of consumptives by Mr. Avret, of Walton, who said that he did not think there should be any appropriation made until after the institution had been investigated to ascertain what it should have.

The committee gave the institution $30,000. Messrs. Dorris, of Crisp, and Nunn, of Houston, wanted the amount increased to $35,000. Mr. Adams, of Pike, thought $25,000 was enough, that being the amount it received this year. Mr. Culpepper, of Meriwether, offered an amendment making the amount $20,000, and it was adopted by a vote of 102 to 25.

The appropriation was made with a proviso by Mr. Avret, of Walton, that no patients be treated free who are able to pay for treatment. Another amendment was by Mr. Rich, of Milner, which called for annual reports to the governor and the legislature.

The next item was the appropriation for the state university. The committee had the amount $60,000. There were several amendments cutting the amount to $52,500 and $50,000.

The hour of 1 o'clock arrived and the committee of the whole arose, reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

LONG TERM WAR LOAN PLANNED BY FRANCE

Great Financial Effort Necessary to Achieve Victory, Says Minister of Finance.

Paris, August 5.—In a discussion in the French senate today on the bill to raise the limit of national defense issues, which was passed in the chamber of deputies July 29, Alexandre Ribot, minister of finance, took occasion to review the financial situation.

"On July 31," he said, "there were 6,958,000,000 francs ($1,391,600,000) of defense issues in circulation. In July 825,000,000 francs ($165,000,000) net were placed in the short term bonds, and 322,000,000 francs ($64,000,000) in the long term obligations.

"Our financial burdens are constantly growing. Arms and ammunition cost a great deal. We probably shall have recourse to a long term loan whereby we can consolidate all our short term treasury issues. We still have a great military and financial effort to make to reach a victorious conclusion of the war.

"The public brings in its gold without pressure. It is conscious of the situation and feels that today no man can save himself by thinking solely of himself. It can only be done by the citizens giving the country their lives if necessary and their goods in this world in any case.

"We must conceal nothing from the country. It is worthy to hear everything. Only in dissimulating nothing can we fittingly respond to the country's fine confidence."

The bill increasing the limit of national defense issues was passed.

CAMPAIGN TO RECALL OPPONENTS OF BEAVERS

solid front and appeal to the moral element of the city you can get them all out within sixty days."

There were calls for Attorney Key, who also announced that he had not received any fee for serving on the counsel for the defense of Beavers.

"My service was only voluntary, and the only reward I sought was the approval of my own conscience," said Mr. Key. "This is not a fight on personalities, for some of those men whom you contemplate removing from office are among my best personal friends. However, I would go to the polls and vote against all of them. Let us not slight any of them in this recall petition."

"Chief Mayo is a good man, so far as I know, but he is that sort of man that would not want to be promoted at the sacrifice of his chief and as soon as the people express themselves he will be glad to take off his cap, come down and see his chief restored to his office."

Dr. Joe Broughton, who served as temporary chairman, declared that it would be unwise to seek the removal from office of only one or two members of the board. He stated that "it is important to remove the kernel if you want to get at the root of the sore, but there are others that are just as guilty as the mayor."

RECALL PETITIONS.

It was agreed that the recall petitions shall be drawn separately and that where friends of one commissioner will not sign a petition to remove him they will sign petitions to remove others.

The speakers lost no love on members of the commission who voted to demote Beavers and they also took occasion to apply some stinging nicknames to certain members.

Several members of the general committee were present, but took no part in the proceedings. Among them were Councilmen Orville H. Hall, J. C. White, J. L. McCord, Sam Freeman of the tenth, Aldermen Albert Thomson and C. H. Kelley.

Among others at the meeting and who participated in the discussion were C. R. Garner, former member of the police board; Tom Goodwin, Walter Lowe, W. G. Moore, J. N. McEachern, Leonard J. Grossman, Ernest Buchanan, Dr. T. D. Longino, J. Carson Baldwin, Marion Jackson, J. L. Moore, John J. Eagan and William D. Upshaw.

MILLNER IS HELD UP AND ROBBED BY BLACKS

Two 15-year-old negro boys held up and robbed W. J. Millner, Jr., of a watch, his glasses and a pocket knife last night on Courtland avenue near Pine street. Mr. Millner stated that the negroes stepped in front of him in a dark place. Thinking that they were armed only with dummy pistols, Mr. Millner told the police that he fought both his assailants until he discovered that one of them was armed with a gun. After robbing him of his pocket possessions they fled down a nearby alley.

PROGRESS OF HIGHWAY REVIEWED BY ENGINEER

Rome, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—An interesting account as to the formation of local councils of the Dixie Highway association is given by T. E. Grafton, chief engineer of the highway association. Fourteen of these councils have been organized, the first in Chattanooga and the second in Rome.

The organization work in Florida has been handled by W. S. Gilbraith, secretary of the association, who has placed a council in each county through which the highway passes from Tallahassee to Miami. Secretary Gilbraith is at present in Indiana, where a state-wide campaign is being conducted.

Despite the fact that the highway is not completed, and that construction work is in progress in almost every county, tourists are daily passing over the road. Yesterday there were numerous automobile parties from Sioux City, Iowa; Knoxville and Chicago, and several from Chattanooga.

A delegation from the Rome Chamber of Commerce appeared yesterday before the Bartow county board of commissioners in regard to work on the western route of the Dixie highway from Cartersville to Chattanooga via Kingston and Rome. They received assurance from the board that work on both parts of the highway through Bartow county will be carried on at the same time, and that ultimately the entire route through Bartow will be surfaced.

BILBO'S MAJORITY OVER FOUR RIVALS WILL EXCEED 5,000

Jackson, Miss., August 5.—Virtually complete returns from Tuesday's democratic primary received here today from seventy-six of the eighty counties in Mississippi indicated that Theodore G. Bilbo was nominated for governor by a majority over the four other aspirants which probably will exceed 5,000. Returns from the four counties which have not reported, it is believed, will not materially change the result, as one of them is Bilbo's home county. Nomination in the primary is considered equivalent to election.

The vote as received gave Bilbo 70,857, M. W. Reily, 41,466. The aggregate vote of the three other aspirants was 22,695, showing a majority for Bilbo of 5,696.

Reily led in the cities, but late last night returns from the country districts placed Bilbo ahead.

Late returns are showing close finishes in contests for some of the other state offices. The unofficial count of the incomplete vote for lieutenant governor cut down E. B. Carter's lead over L. M. Russell to about 4,000. The official count may be required to decide the contest. A second primary may be necessary to settle the nomination for railroad commissioner, for which J. R. McDowell is leading G. R. Edwards and E. A. Crowley. The results previously indicated in the races for other state offices have not been changed by the later returns.

WILSON PLANNING NATIONAL DEFENSE

To Throw Entire Weight of Administration Back of Broad Policy Framed Under Expert Advice.

Cornish, N. H., August 5.—Aiming at developing a broad and convincing program of national defense which will meet with the approval of congress, President Wilson is planning to co-operate with the chairmen of the military and naval affairs committees of the senate and house, as well as with Secretaries Garrison and Daniels, before finally deciding on recommendations to make in his next message to congress.

The president told friends here tonight that while he had made no definite plans for consulting with the chairmen of the committees interested in the question of national defense, he would arrange to see them before congress convenes, to unite on a single program of action.

When the president sees the chairmen of the four committees he expects to have before him reports being prepared by the heads of the war and navy departments who are expected to take part in the conference.

The president already has written to Chairman Padgett, of the house naval affairs committee, inviting him to meet him on Mr. Wilson's return to Washington. While he did not say tonight whether he had written similar letters to the chairmen of the other committees, it was reported he had done so.

The president believes the time has come for the United States to decide on a definite program of national defense. He will not decide in his own mind on the kind of program required until he has thoroughly examined the reports of Mr. Garrison and Mr. Daniels and has received the views of congressional leaders.

The president expects members of the military and naval committees to give and receive ideas before the appropriation bills containing army and navy items come up for discussion.

The plan of the president is to consider carefully a program of national defense after free consultation with others and then to throw the entire weight of the administraton behind the policy agreed on. As already indicated, the part of his next message devoted to national defense is expected to be the most important of the entire document. The president opposes a policy of "militarism," but thinks the United States should be defended.

The reports of Secretaries Garrison and Daniels are expected to be ready next week and will be submitted to the president after his return to Washington.

BEAVERS MAY SOON GO ON LECTURE PLATFORM

James L. Beavers, deposed as chief of police, may soon appear in another role—chautauqua lecturer. It became known Thursday morning that several attractive offers have been made to the former chief by lyceum bureaus as well as individuals who have urged him to tour the country under private management.

The chief would not discuss the proposition further than to admit that offers had been made. He also declined to say whether or not he would accept an offer if the consideration was amply large. It is known, however, that he has been asked to consider a proposition of touring the southern states and giving a lecture on law enforcement and in connection with his talk to tell the story of his administration of the law in Atlanta.

Public speaking is no new position for the former chief. His last two addresses before the national convention of police chiefs attracted national attention and he has been in demand for several years by church and civic organizations in Georgia and neighboring states.

LIGHT TOO BRIGHT, COMPLAIN CITIZENS AND ALDERMEN AC

It is not infrequent that general council is asked by citizens to give them more light, but the members of the body are stumped when citizens complain of too much light, as obtained in the case of citizens in the vicinity of the intersection of Copenhill, Washita and Argard avenues.

The aldermanic board Thursday concurred in a resolution passed by council providing for the muzzling of an arc light in that vicinity with a tin shield. The citizens claimed the light was so bright that the glare of it at night prevented them from sleeping well.

Only a short distance from this locality another complaint has come from Rev. C. O. Jones, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, who resides at 988 Highland avenue. Mr. Jones took the matter in his own hands at first and inclosed the light in a tin shield, but later, learning that the light was just outside the city limits, he went before the county commissioners and asked for protection against the sharp rays of the light, which he said disturbed the sleep of himself and his wife.

France Determined to Fight Until Complete Victory Is Won

First Meeting of Deputies Since New Cabinet Marked by Demonstration of Patriotism.

Paris, August 5.—The first meeting of the chamber of deputies after the anniversary of the beginning of the war was held today. The session was marked by an extraordinary demonstration of patriotism. Today's meeting was the first since the formation of the coalition cabinet.

Paul Deschanel, president of the chamber, opened the session with an eloquent speech apparently intended to be a following of the example of the address of M. Rodzianko, president of the Russian duma, and a reply to the anniversary manifesto of the German emperor.

The premier gave response in the name of the government.

M. Deschanel said a year had passed since the enemy of France, even before declaring war, had violated French territory. "This year has been so full of a glory so pure," he declared, "that it will forever illumine the human race. It has been a year in which France, the France of Joan of Arc and Valmy, has risen, if possible, to even greaetr heights."

He recounted briefly "the breaking of the German military power," and "the forcing back of the enemy of France."

Changing Its Methods.

"Be the war of short or long duration France accepts it," M. Deschanel declared. "The country is summoning its genius and changing its methods. Each French soldier, before the enemy, repeats the words of Joan of Arc, 'You can enchain me, but you cannot enchain the fortunes of France.' These touches of human grandeur come from the depth of the muddy trenches."

M. Deschanel then repeated the determination of France to continue the struggle to complete victory. "It is not only a matter of life," he said, "it is a matter of that honor which France always has preferred to life."

A message from President Poincare reviewing the war was read by the premier and in the senate by Aristide Briand, minister of justice. M. Poincare laid especial emphasis on the "sacred union of the political parties in France," calling this one of the conditions of the victory. "If Germany is counting on the possibility of dividing France at the present time she is deceived today as completely as she was a year ago," he said. "Time will not weaken the ties binding the great French family," he declared, "it will only draw them closer."

M. Poincare closed with this statement:

"The only peace the republic can accept is one which will guarantee the security of Europe."

Accambray Creates Scene.

Only one incident threatened the war anniversary celebration in the chamber of deputies. Immediately after M. Deschanel called the deputies to order, Leon Accambray, member from the Aisne, who frequently of late has viciously attacked the government in the evident attempt to discredit Minister of War Millerand, demanded the floor. Murmurs from all sides grew in volume as M. Accambray mounted the tribune. When he began to speak the protests from his colleagues, exhibiting their impatience and their temper, seemed to frighten M. Accambray, who asked leave to print his remarks and left the tribune. Later, during M. Deschanel's address, M. Accambray sought to interrupt the president, but the long and unanimous applause of M. Deschanel's praise of the work of the chamber drowned out his voice.

The speech of M. Deschanel and the message of President Poincare were frequently interrupted with applause.

NO VIOLENCE IN NEW EARTH LIQUID

Thousands Daily Pleased Over Quiet Way in Which Vitalitas Works.

"The change came so quietly that I scarcely realized at any time the effect Vitalitas was having upon me," said Mrs. W. C. Maloney, a well-known Dallas lady of 915 North Madison street. People throughout Georgia who are using Vitalitas will understand just what Mrs. Maloney means. She adds: "Gradually I began to feel better and my nervousness, sleeplessness and stomach troubles, all of which were making serious inroads on my health, were slipping away. I have taken two bottles of it and if there is anything now the matter with me I do not know it. I consider myself cured, and I consider Vitalitas one of the greatest things that has been given to mankind."

Vitalitas, when taken into the system, attacks diseased or weakened tissues wherever they exist. Its action is direct and the good it does is constitutional. Such disorders as indigestion, biliousness, nervous debility, catarrh, bowel ailments and those insidious ills of kidneys and liver are overcome and healthful conditions restored. See the demonstration and sample Vitalitas at Jacobs' Pharmacy, 23 Whitehall, or write there for information.—(Adv.)

AMERICAS UNITE TO DEMAND PEACE

there shall be no prolonged diplomatic exchanges with General Carranza as there were during the Niaraga conference. The message that will go to him will insist on an answer within a stipulated time. General Carranza will be asked to lay down his arms and join with his adversaries in establishing a government which the United States will recognize. The leading powers of the world, now awaiting the American government's action, are prepared to follow.

Others Ready for Peace.

The message to Carranza will present in a firm fashion the reasons why he should adopt the course outlined.

The alternative in the event that Carranza declines to yield is not entirely clear. So far as Villa, Zapata and other Mexican leaders are concerned, there is said to be a definite understanding among officials of the administration that they are ready to participate in a peace conference.

There has been no denial of the suggestion that all the other factions, in the event of Carranza's continued rejection of proposals, would participate in a conference to name a provisional president and organize a government which would have the moral support of the United States and Latin-America. An embargo on arms against all who resist such agreement would be enforced by the co-operating nations. Further steps that might be necessary are declared to have been carefully outlined by the president, but they have not been disclosed.

An important part of Mr. Fuller's report to the diplomats today concerned negotiations with other Mexican leaders conducted during the last two months by agents of the Washington administration including Mr. Fuller himself. The results of conferences with General Felipe Angeles, Diaz Lombardo, Manuel Bonilla and General Villa himself were disclosed. All were favorable to the general plan. Villa expresed his willingness to eliminate himself if peace can be assured. Thus the preliminary negotiations necessarily revolve around Carranza. Upon his answer much depends as to the nature of the final plans.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS IN SOUTH GEORGIA

Albany, Ga., August 5.—(Special—If business conditions throughout this section of Georgia are worse, or even as bad, as they were a year ago, the fact is not reflected in the records of the Albany division of the United States court for the southern district of Georgia.

Exactly the same number of petitions in bankruptcy was filed in the office of the clerk during Judy, 1915, as was filed in July a year ago, the month before the breaking out of the war in Europe. During the last two weeks of July, 1915, not a single bankruptcy petition was filed in the entire Albany division, the last petition reaching the clerk's office on July 17.

During the first seventeen days of the month only four petitions went on record, while the average number per month for the year is nearly ten, 115 having been filed during the year. Those familiar with business conditions throughout this section declare that this is but one of many signs that southwest Georgia is no longer being seriously inconvenienced by depression resulting from the foreign war, all classes of enterprises having adjusted themselves to the new conditions.

Very few bankruptcy cases are expected to develop during August.

ALBANY TO ERECT $50,000 AUDITORIUM

Albany, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Dirt was broken yesterday for Albany's new municipal auditorium, which will occupy the site of the old Georgia Chautauqua auditorium, on the corner of Pine and Jackson streets. The building, exclusive of the cost of the lot, will represent an investment of more than $50,000, and will place Albany abreast of the foremast cities of the south in the matter of preparedness to entertain large conventions.

A bond issue of $40,000 was voted for the auditorium, but it developed that the building the city council wanted could not be erected for that amount. A mass meeting of citizens was called, and there was no dissent to a suggestion that the other $10,000 or so be raised during the next two years by slightly increasing the municipal tax rate.

The auditorium will have every modern convenience. It will probably be leased for theatrical purposes, having full theater equipment, but will be at the disposal of the community for chautauqua assemblies, conventions, political meetings, etc. There will be a small auditorium also on the ground floor capable of caring for conventions not attended by more than 150 delegates, and a room for the women's organizations of the community. The main auditorium will seat 2,000 persons.

$3,500 FIRE DAMAGE TO LOUISVILLE STORE

Louisville, Ga., August 5.—(Special.) At 2 o'clock Wednesday morning fire was discovered in one of the brick stores owned by J. B. Polhill.

By hard work the fire department soon had the blaze under control but only after considerable damage had been done to the stock of goods. Injury from water and fire will perhaps amount to $3,500, fully covered by insurance.

ROCKMART BANK ROBBER SOUGHT BY DETECTIVES

Five Men, Still Being Held as Accomplices, Cannot Prove Alibi.

Rome, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Private detectives are now seeking the robber who held up the bank of Rockmart yesterday afternoon and who escaped with $3,500 in $10 and $20 bills. The robber who forced Assistant Cashier Fambo at the point of a pistol to back into the vault and deliver the money refused packages of small bills, taking only the larger denominations.

Of the six men arrested yesterday, five are still held by the sheriff, though none of them appear to be implicated in the robbery. They, however, cannot satisfactorily account for their time while the robbery was being committed. The private detectives are employed by the surety company which protects the bank from losses through robbery.

After Second Escape Prisoner Is Nabbed By Sumter Sheriff

Americus, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Ivey Kaler, a white convict doing four years' term for manslaughter and who escaped recently from the Sumter chaingang, was captured this evening.

Kaler was concealed in the home of his mother-in-law and armed with a revolver, but made no attempt to shoot Deputy Harvey, who found him.

This is Kaler's second successful escape. The first time he went to the North Carolina mountains, but his presence there was betrayed by an acquaintance for the reward offered.

He is regarded as a dangerous criminal.

Empire Investment and Yaryan Naval Stores Co. Are to Be Rehabilitated

Brunswick, Ga., August 5.—The plan for the reorganization of the Yaryan Naval Stores company was revealed here yesterday when a petition for the incorporation of the Yaryan Rosin and Turpentine company was filed in the superior court, which will make the new concern virtually the holding company for the Yaryan Naval Stores company and the Empire Investment company.

It is specifically stated in the charter that the Yaryan Rosin and Turpentine company is to take over the assets of the Yaryan Naval Stores company and the Empire Investment company, aggregating $1,800,000. The home office of the company will be located here. Stock to the amount of $800,000 is to be issued to the creditors of the Yaryan Naval Stores company, entering into the reorganization plan, and these will recover in return for their claims collateral trust notes.

The capital stock of the new concern will be $1,000,000. The company will have a treasury capital of working assets not less than $100,000. Albert Pendig, A. M. Way and G. C. Smith, of Brunswick; A. H. Bauer, of St. Louis, Mo., and their associates are named as petitioners for incorporation.

MICHIGAN ALUMNI WILL RAISE FUNDS TO EQUIP A UNION

Acting in unison with 182 University of Michigan Alumni clubs scattered over the United States, the Atlanta club, headed by Dr. Leroy W. Childs, will start a campaign in October to raise funds with which to erect, equip and endow a University of Michigan union, as a center of undergraduate activities at Ann Arbor.

This organization will be similar in purpose to the widely-known Harvard union. It is intended to be a students' headquarters and will receive membership from all departments of the university. The building will cost $650,000 and its equipment $100,000. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars will be set aside as an endowment.

There are twenty-three Michigan alumni in Atlanta and they will immediately commence this campaign among the sixty-seven Michigan men in Georgia and South Carolina so that interest in the proposed union will be greatly aroused by the time the actual campaign for the necessary sum of $1,000,000 is inaugurated with a banquet here October 2.

The committee in charge of the local headquarters are: Dr. Leroy William Childs, chairman; Donald T. Hackinnon, secretary; Harrison Jones, W. S. Becker and Hamilton Douglas, Sr.

A FREE SEA FIRST.

If it comes to the point where arbitration is necessary to convince England of the injustice and the illegality of interference with a free sea for neutral and non-contraband commerce, the United States should by all means insist upon a free sea first.

It is stated in the recent English note that in the event differences between the two countries relative to our rights in transporting cargoes to neutral European ports should appear irreconcilable through diplomatic channels, England is willing to submit the question to arbitration. The proposal, apparently a fair one, would be manifestly unfair if England should persist in her unlawful course of detaining our cargoes and seizing our vessels while the matter was pending for settlement.

Undoubtedly the administration in Washington will make some pretty definite and pointed representations to England on the subject of our sea rights before reaching the point where arbitration provides the only method of solution. President Wilson is confident of the justice and righteousness of the American position, and there can be no question that he will present it to the British government with all the force at his command, just as he has done in the case of our dispute with Germany relative to the sinking of the Lusitania.

There still remains the hope that these representations, together with the knowledge which England must have gained by this time of the temper of the American people regarding her unjust policy, will lead to a withdrawal or satisfactory revision of the objectionable "orders in council." The country generally would deprecate resort to any such extreme measure as an embargo upon war munitions and supplies, which has already been suggested and urged in thousands of letters and telegrams which have been pouring into Washington. We would prefer to attain the result through the absolute righteousness of the American cause, rather than be forced to take radical steps.

But if the matter comes to a question of arbitration, which will probably be determined with the next exchange of notes, the United States cannot do otherwise than insist that the seas shall be left absolutely free and untrammeled to neutral and non-contraband commerce while the issue is in process of settlement.

The United States are committed to the principle of arbitration in the settlement of international disputes; but acceptance of the principle cannot be held to involve the right to cause irreparable damage, through commission of an admittedly illegal act, during the period of many months that would be necessary for a determination of the issue.

If we permit England to continue to close neutral ports to our non-contraband commerce while waiting a decision from an arbitration court, the amount of loss we would suffer in the single commodity of cotton alone would be way up in the millions. It is not for England to say whether or not our cotton is going to Germany, or to stop it even if that fact were known, so long as it is non-contraband and is consigned to buyers residing in neutral countries and neutral ports.

The fact that England's position is tenable solely upon the ground of war expediency, and is in direct contravention of international law, would make any proposal of arbitration unwelcome to the people of this country, unless it were accompanied by express willingness to cease the illegal acts while the question is in the hands of the court. Thus, although this country stands first and foremost in recognition of the principle of arbitration, it would be useless to accept it, if the material damage were done long before the decision of the court could be rendered.

The harvest of the south's cotton crop will begin within the next thirty days. Upon its enjoyment of a free market will depend the price the producer will receive for it. Crop conditions and world demand are such that without obstruction it will bring a fair and satisfactory price. We must remove that obstruction and remove it quickly.

We believe President Wilson has the matter well in hand and may be counted upon to make it plain to England that persistence in this unwarranted and illegal course will be considered a "deliberately unfriendly" act.

COLLEGE ENDOWMENTS.

Incident to the turmoil and strife which almost naturally and invariably characterize the close of a session of the Georgia legislature, it is profoundly to be hoped that the bill authorizing the legislature, by specific enactment, to exempt from taxation the endowments of denominational colleges and universities will not be overlooked.

This bill, a constitutional amendment, has passed the senate, but failed in the house for the lack of four votes, receiving 122 when it needed but 126 to send it to the governor, where its approval would have been unquestioned. It remains to come up now on a question of reconsideration. It must be reconsidered at this session in order to hold its place on the calendar for consideration and action next year.

With the vast majority of the members of the house strongly favoring this legislation it will take but five minutes to reconsider the action of the house in defeating it, thus restoring it to vitality for the second session of the present legislative body.

As a matter of fact, it ought not to take longer than that to call it up and pass it, or at least no longer than would be required to complete a roll call of the members. That is what the house should really do with it. There isn't a question but that with anything like a full house this measure will go through and be submitted to a vote of the people in November, 1916.

The question has been thoroughly argued and fully threshed out; it has been proven impossible for its opponents to raise any reasonable or valid arguments against it. All that remains is to bring about another vote upon the measure with a full house present, and there will be no question as to its enactment.

In any event, the house should not adjourn without providing for reconsideration, thus holding the measure in readiness for action at the 1916 session in full time for its submission to the voters in the November election.

THE FREE MOVIES.

The Anti-Tuberculosis Society of Atlanta is conducting a practical educational campaign in the free moving picture shows put on in different parts of the city for the purpose of instructing people in the prevention of disease, the program including films amusing as well as instructive. A group of Atlanta's best known physicians contribute their service to the movement, in interpreting the pictures, and in bringing the hopeful message that through rational methods tuberculosis may be prevented and the ravages of the disease arrested.

The shows are being put on in the outlying districts, where distance prevents the people from going to the shows in the center of the city, and where it is possible for women and children to go unattended.

Aside from the protective purpose of the "free movies," and their suggestive aid to the people untrained in the prevention of diseases, they have their value as an expression of public recreation which yet is woefully limited in Atlanta. The movies have their place now, whether or not they measure up to art in all its requirements; whether they are or not, the kind of recreation all people should have, they have made a universal appeal and are meeting with a universal response. If, with their popularity as a recreation, they can be used to better humanity, not only in the spiritual but the physical sense, they possess a value incalculable.

In their use to instruct the ignorant in the laws of living, and in the conservation of public health, they represent a factor in civilization. While the optimistic statement is now made that with the strides of science and the breadth of philanthropy, there is coming the day when there will be no more "children's diseases," it may be said of the movies that they can help the grown-ups who still have life before them if they can be taught to live it. They cannot learn the lessons that are taught the child in the school of today. They did not have the advantages of the clinics so generously established now for the cure and treatment of children. But they can drop into the movies which have suddenly come to stir the interest of the community, and learn their lesson on the screen.

Even Mexico has lucid intervals, but seems always in the act of apologizing for them.

The pacification of all the Mexican generals would be the diplomatic miracle of the century.

The Shadow-Hunter.

Settin' by the wayside, ready to complain; fussin' with the sunshine, ravin' at the rain! And Life is singin' 'round you a song the angels know, and gentle love has found you where fadeless flowers grow. But nothing this side heaven is suited to your mind; with stars and suns to guide you, you walk the life-way—blind! Lower the stormy banners and let 'em all be furled, and cry, when night seems falling: "Good morning to the world!"

Queer Idea of Paradise.

The Carroll Free Press says that some of the weekly editors obtained their first real glimpse of Paradise on their recent trip to south Georgia, and here it is:

"The enchanting picture was that of a razor-back rooter lying in a cool wallow in the shade on one side of the fence, and a nice gentleman standing on the other side by a great stack of watermelons, which he tossed over to the contented long-nosed rooter at proper intervals."

Don't want no bullets swishin'—
For Peace is hard to beat;
The river's ripe for fishin',
The birds are singin' sweet,
An' a feller falls to dreamin',
With the daisies at his feet.

Don't want no captains callin'
To charge, or to retreat;
I feel the blooms a-fallin'
On the meadow an' the street,
An' the bees are sippin' honey
From the hearts of roses sweet.

Don't want no bayonets shinin'
Where blossoms ought to be,
Where woodland vines are twinin'
An' rills sing sweet to sea,
For Love an' Life are smilin'
An' loafin' 'round with me.

Too Hot!

One of the most expressive poems of the weather is by Folger McKinsey, in The Baltimore Sun:

"Too hot to talk, too hot to think,
Too hot to eat, too hot to drink,
Too hot to go, too hot to stay,
Too hot to work, too hot to play.

"Too hot to smile, too hot to sing,
Too hot to soar, too hot to cling,
Too hot to growl, too hot to chaff,
Too hot to scold, too hot to laugh.

"Too hot to come, too hot to go,
Too hot to reap, too hot to sow,
Too hot to turn, too hot to stand,
Too hot to sail, too hot to land.

"Too hot to start, too hot to end,
Too hot to strut, too hot to bend,
Too hot to loaf, too hot to sprint,
Too hot for everything but mint."

Defends School Book Bill.

Editor Constitution: I noticed in The Constitution of this date the publication of a resolution passed by the board of trustees of the public school of West Point, Ga., opposing my bill for uniform school books, which the senate passed by a vote of 31 to 8. I presume this resolution was furnished The Constitution by some of the book companies, as it did not contain any date line. A copy of this resolution was sent me before my bill was passed by the senate and I wrote the authors of the resolution that more than one thousand people in my county had urged me to have this bill passed, many of them being citizens of the town of West Point.

The people of Georgia are demanding the passage of this bill, and it is only being opposed by the book companies and the heads of some of the towns and city schools. There are being used in my county five separate series of text-books by the different schools, and these schools have the privilege of changing every year or oftener. The result of this is that many parents are keeping their children out of school.

A Little Dissertation On Not "Growing Old"

By Sam W. Small.

This thing of "growing old" is a queer business. I get lots of fun out of it and will not object to having the comedy drawn out a goodly number of years yet.

Of course, I am not an "old man" now, although some younger persons who are bald as onions already, insist upon so referring to me when they think I am not listening.

But the best authorities now hold that no one is to be included among the "old men" until he passes his sixty-fifth milepost—and I still have one to go to reach that. So, officially, I am not an old man and this is to warn all whom it may concern to that effect.

* * * *

Anyhow, I have found out that a fellow doesn't have to get old, unless he wants to. Age is as much a matter of psychology as it is of arithmetic. Just because you can't chuck the almanac under a rock and go off and forget it is no reason why you should drool at the mouth, hump your shoulders and shuffle two steps instead of striding one. It is one's heart that keeps time for him and not that bunion on the brain that the phrenologists call "calculation." Life on the planet now is moving with electric energy and if a fellow keeps his trolley on the feed wire of current events, he will have no time to watch the slow-moving fingers of the town clock, nor any leisure to go into the cemetery of yesterday and, like another Old Mortality, renew the epitaphs on the tombs of his dead joys.

* * * *

Gee whiz, man, keep moving! Those who keep up with the procession, who push hard on the wheels of progress, who shoulder and lift for sagging and suffering humanity, will never die of arterial sclerosis or senile debility. It's me for the firing line—me to go down, when I must, with my harness on my back!

* * * *

But, after all, it is a far cry back to that July day in 1861, when I first set foot in Atlanta and spent the first night under the hospitable roof of Er Lawshe, on the corner where the Masonic Temple now stands. In that day that was "a long way up town" to the youthful refugee from Tennessee. And how many of those who were boys with me then, and young men in the bravery of soldier's uniforms, and with officer's bars on their collars and braid on their sleeves, have since passed on "to that bourne whence no traveler returns?"

How few of those who came back after the great debacle of 1865 and who heroically helped to build Atlanta to her greater post-bellum glories now linger to enjoy the fruits of their splendid work. That is the saddest thing about growing old—calling over in your mind the long roll of the vanished.

* * * *

Still I have plenty of good company in my class and in those ahead in the line. Of those who also are sixty-four this year may be mentioned Bishop Beckwith of Alabama, Senator Burton of Ohio, ex-Secretary Bonaparte, Multimillionaires Stuyvesant Fish, Tom Ryan and Perry Belmont, and President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford university.

Right ahead of me, just over the old age line in the sixty-five class are Speaker Champ Clark, Senator Lodge, Oscar S. Straus, Seth Low, President Schurman of Cornell, Lord Kitchener and Sir Thomas Lipton.

Justice Day, of the supreme court, is sixty-six; Justice Lamar is sixty-eight—same age as Thomas A. Edison and Senators Martin and Tillman.

My old friend Buffalo Bill is sixty-nine, while Admiral Sigsbee, who is joint grandfather with me to three little girls, is seventy, along with Chief Justice White and ex-Senator Elihu Root.

So, without naming a lot of very active old men who are between seventy and ninety years of age, I claim fair exemption from the epithet of "old man."

According to the table of expectations as applied to American life I have over thirteen years yet to look forward to—if I keep well and clear of the crematory!

Will the Germans Invade England?

THE plan of the kaiser to effect an invasion of the British Isles furnishes the subject for a full page of extraordinary interest in the feature section of The Constitution next Sunday. Military and naval students tell why the kaiser wants Calais, and show how, with Calais, the Germans hope to dominate Dover with guns of extraordinary range, and make the invasion of England's shores an easy thing.

It Is a Sad Story

Henry L. Whitney really loved pretty Aline Waite and Aline Waite really loved Henry L. Whitney, the wealthy Chicago manufacturer. So they married the day after they met. Then eight—count them—eight jilted sweethearts insisted on holding telephone conversations with Mr. Whitney. So what was the bride to do? She was just eighteen, with the world before her, so she left Mr. Whitney to the mercies of the eight jiltees. What they said to Mr. Whitney, what Mr. Whitney said to them, and what pretty Aline said to them all form the basis of a really truly romance set forth in The Constitution Sunday, accompanied by several photographs which are striking to the eye, to say the least.

Truth About the Underworld

Another full page devoted to the confessions of J. A. Peters will appear in The Sunday Constitution. It is the story of "Big Hiram," who robbed at will, and in it is set forth clearly, frankly, how the men in the underworld ply their trade, and how they manage to escape the toils of the law.

Czar of the Bulgars

A striking full page portrait in colors of the man upon whom the eyes of the world are again turned—the man you hear so little about, but who is credited with having the power to turn the tide of war of the world's greatest war.

The American Dollar Bill

The inside story of the birth of the dollar bill—a story that is copyrighted and printed with the consent of the government. The feature, a full page, is out of the ordinary, but none the less interesting.

Killing Time

The title of one of the greatest drawings by James Montgomery Flagg. The Constitution has obtained permission to reproduce in half-page form each Sunday the best drawings by America's foremost pen and ink artist.

Charley Chaplin's Comic Capers

The latest innovation in comics, the antics of the great moving picture comedian, reproduced in colors, is making a tremendous hit with all the lovers of fun, young and old. Charley Chaplin's stunts make a regular feature now of The Constitution comic section.

THESE are a few of the features in next Sunday's Constitution. In addition to the best supplement issued by any southern newspaper, the readers of The Sunday Constitution have the service of the greatest news-gathering organizations in the world. That is why The Constitution is recognized as THE STANDARD SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER.

GEORGIA POLICE CHIEFS PUT BAN ON BEVERAGES

Savannah Gets Next Meeting. L. M. Summer, of Cordele, Elected President.

Macon, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Intoxicating liquors were placed under the ban at all conventions of the Georgia Police Chiefs and Town Marshals' association, at the closing session of the association here today.

It had been planned to give a Dutch luncheon at the Hotel Lanier at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Taking the position that the public is demanding sobriety in the business world and among public officials, Chief Sumner, of Cordele, introduced a resolution declaring against the use of intoxicating beverages at their entertainments. The resolution was adopted.

The luncheon at the Lanier was given but the beer, which it had been proposed to serve, gave way to lemonade.

At the meeting today the following officers were elected to serve during the ensuing year:

President—L. M. Sumner, of Cordele.

First Vice President—Chief M. L. Meldrim, of Savanah.

Second Vice President—Chief L. E. Brooks, of Athens.

Secretary and Treasurer—Chief J. P. Griffin, West Point.

Executive Committee—Chief H. P. Stewart, Rome, and Chief J. O. Thrasher, of Tifton, three-year terms; Chief W. H. Irving, Elberton, and Chief Ellis, of Albany, two-year terms; Chief R. J. Rowall, Fort Valley, and Chief I. G. Scott, Eatonton, one-year terms.

Sergeant-at-arms—Chief Flanders, of Dublin.

The contest for the honor of entertaining the next annual convention was a warm one, nine cities extending invitations, but after the first ballot, when it was found that Savannah was far in the lead, the other cities withdrew in her honor.

The chiefs decided to take their wives with them to the Savannah meeting.

Mrs. McGuyrt Succumbs.

Macon, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. W. S. McGuyrt, wife of a linotype operator for The Macon Telegraph, who had been unconscious for several days following an unusual accident, died at her home on Walnut street this afternoon. While dressing a few afternoons ago, Mrs. McGuyrt is thought to have been stricken with an attack of actue indigestion and fell unconscious to the floor. Her head struck the sharp corner of a bureau and fractured her skull. An operation failed to give relief.

"OLD 7" BACK IN TOWN WITH CLOAK AND HOOD

"Old 7" is in town. Perhaps you've seen that mysterious being in his long red cloak and hood. He has been parading Peachtree and Whitehall streets for several days now. If you saw him you probably received a red envelope containing a stick of Sterling gum, such as is on sale at many of the Atlanta stores.

There's an interesting story behind "Old 7" and the advertising campaign of which he forms a part. Probably you'll be glad to hear it, for the chances are that "Old 7" will become as famous a national character as "the old woman who lived in the shoe" or any of the characters of "Spotless Town."

The people who made Sterling gum—and, by the way, they figure as one of the important gum manufacturers in the United States—realized that they had seven points of superiority in their brand of Sterling gum. The seventh point, in their estimation, is the most important point of all, but to stimulate interest in all seven points and make the public co-operate with them in extending the publicity caused by their advertising, they have consistently refused to publish the nature of this final point. In fact, they plan to offer rewards for the discovery of point 7, which is hidden in the gum.

One of their advertising specialists suggested "Let's make a real character and call him 'Old 7, the Baffler.'" So they did.

"Old 7" visits each city about the time that Sterling gum is put on sale.

EMPIRE REALTY CO. MAY PLACE BRANCH OFFICE IN ATLANTA

Bibb Jacobs, of Nashville, vice president and general counsel of the Empire Realty company, one of the most influential organizations of its kind in the country, is in Atlanta, stopping at the Hotel Ansley. Mr. Jacobs is observing conditions with a view towards establishing a branch office of his organization in Atlanta. The headquarters are in Nashville, Tenn., with branch offices only in such important cities as San Francisco, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Chicago and New York.

DRENCHING RAINFALL DOES MUCH DAMAGE

Augusta, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—The heavy rainfall of yesterday caused considerable annoyance and some damage in Augusta. The weather report shows a precipitation of 3.90 inches for 24 hours. A washout on the Savannah road, causing a sewer cave-in, was one of the worst of many similar occurrences, and the washouts on the Hill interfered with the street car service materially.

The business section was in darkness for several hours after the rain. The water filled the manholes of the electric company's underground system and put the fuse boxes and cables out of commission, but repairs had been made by this morning.

Louisiana's First Bale.

New Orleans, August 5.—The first bale of the 1915 Louisiana cotton crop was received today from Franklin and was sold at auction on the cotton exchange for 15 cents a pound. The initial bale this year arrived ten days earlier than last season.

CAPITOL GOSSIP

By Ned McIntosh

REPRESENTATIVE A. B. CONGER MAKES HIS MAIDEN SPEECH.

Representative A. B. Conger, of Decatur county, made his maiden speech in the house Thursday afternoon. He opened the debate on the appropriation of $60,000 for the state university. He was opposed to so large an appropriation, and gave his reasons in a very clear and forceful style. He was highly complimented on his speech.

SNAPSHOT ARTISTS REAP RICH HARVEST AT CAPITOL.

Three tin-type snapshot artists, who take you while you wait for 10 cents a shot, reaped a rich harvest at the state capitol Thursday afternoon. A large number of the members of the house and senate, thinking there could be no better souvenir of their legislative deliberations than a picture of themselves, patronized the snapshotters liberally. The artists hauled in the 10-cent pieces like the proverbial hot cakes.

One Brand for Cattle.

The senate agricultural committee yesterday recommended for passage a bill which will allow cattlemen in Georgia to use but one brand for their cattle. No ranch can use more than one brand for any purpose, if this bill, which has already passed the house, becomes law.

Senator L. R. Akin, of the fourth, and Senator Goolsby opposed the bill, contending that it would work undue hardship on cattlemen. Senator George Faulk and Senator C. C. Minter favored the measure.

The senate committee on corporations Thursday afternoon reported favorably on a bill amending the Kirkwood, Ga., charter, so that a continuation of Fair street may be made as Fair road. Senator Z. V. Peacock is chairman of the corporations committee.

GOVERNOR SITS IN GALLERY AS FIGHT ON TECH PROCEEDS.

While but very few, if any, of the members of the house were aware of his presence, certainly the most interested spectator during the debate upon cutting the appropriations for Tech in the house Thursday afternoon was Governor Nat Harris, president of the board of trustees of that institution.

Governor Harris has for many years been a staunch supporter of and a hard worker for Georgia Tech. The school might be said to be one of his pet ideals.

While the fight upon the Tech appropriations was in progress, Governor Harris sat high up in a corner of the house gallery and watched the progress of the fight for several minutes. So quiet was this visit of the governor that only a few saw him.

Governor Harris regards the proposed increase in appropriations for Tech as one of the most important in this year's sheet.

MONEY PROVIDED FOR REPAIR OF MANSION.

The resolution appropriating $1,000 for the purpose of repairing the governor's mansion and putting it "in condition for occupancy," became a law late Thursday afternoon when Governor Harris placed his signature to it. This makes the money immediately available and the repairs and furnishings which for many years have been badly needed may now be had.

Even the brief period during which Governor Harris has lived in the mansion in its present condition has probably been sufficient to insure that he will enforce the provisions of this new law of Georgia most diligently.

SENATE PASSES MEASURE FOR "PUBLIC DEFENDER"

Alexander H. Stephens Institute at Crawfordville Will Be Created.

Georgia cities with population of over 100,000 will have a public defender, according to a bill by Representative Blackburn, which has passed the house and Thursday passed the senate unanimously

The "public defender" is to be elected, and his duty will be to defend, in all but the recorder's court, all persons charged with crime except those considered by him guilty The defender shall be paid not more than $4,000 annually, the amount to be determined by the presiding judge of the superior court, subject to the approval of the county commissioners.

The Alexander H. Stephens institute will be created according to a bill passed in the senate Thursday which makes Stephens' old home at Crawfordville a branch of the state university

Senator Boykin's bill limiting campaign expenses of Georgia statehouse candidates was passed Members of the legislature are allowed but $500 for a campaign; the governor can spend $5,000

Senator Akin's bill to protect oysters, fish and shrimp in the state was passed by a vote of 33 to 2 Senator Vance Peacock gave notice that he would call for a reconsideration of this measure

Senator Ransom's compulsory education bill was tabled

A house bill, by Mr Dart of Glynn, increasing pensions of confederate veterans and their widows, passed the senate Thursday Senator Goolsby heartily favored the bill, speaking, he said, for the first time this session He stated that he would like to tax all Georgia men born too late to fight in the war a poll tax of $2 instead of $1, the money to be given to pensions

FOR BETTER MARKETS CHAMBER DIRECTORS PLEDGE ASSISTANCE

Directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce indorsed the state-wide campaign for better markets at their meeting Wednesday afternoon. They voted to "co-operate to the fullest extent, pledging this chamber to pay its appropriate part of all the expenses necessary to carry on the campaign."

The letter to Charles J. Haden, president of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, notifying him of the action of the Atlanta chamber, follows:

"At a meeting of the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce held today, the advisability of putting on a Georgia diversification farming campaign in co-operation with the agricultural commissioner of Georgia, state superintendent of education, railroads, Farmers' union, College of Agriculture, newspapers and other organizations in Georgia, assisted by the International Harvester company, was discussed and the directors voted to co-operate to the fullest extent, pledging this chamber to pay its appropriate part of all the expenses necessary to carry on the campaign."

CLIFFORD WALKER WILL ADDRESS CREDIT MEN

Atlanta Association of Credit Men will hold its first quarterly meeting Tuesday evening, August 10, at the East Lake Country club. Clifford Walker, attorney general of Georgia, will make the principal address. Other speakers will be J. L. Baldwin, president of the association, and E. L. Baldwin.

HAWKINSVILLE GREETS SOUTH GA. LOG-ROLLERS

Ten Special Trains Bring 15,000 Visitors—Cordele Gets Next Meet.

Hawkinsville, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Over fifteen thousand people arrived here today in attendance upon the South Georgia Log Rolling association. The program opened with a great parade over a mile in length, including three brass bands and four uniform regiments from Macon and Atlanta. Many prominent speakers were heard and a big barbecue amply fed the crowd. Baseball was played between Hawkinsville and Fitzgerald at 4 o'clock, one game being won by each.

Class initiation was held tonight for 200 new members. Ten special trains brought in a crowd and after a warm contest, Cordele was given the log rolling for next year.

The following officers were elected: Newton Phillips, president; J. W. Simmons, first vice president; J. Gordon Jones, second vice president; J. W. Pass, third vice president; R. E. Moore, fourth vice president; John Earl, fifth vice president; Mrs. Nessie Dumars, sixth vice president; J. W. Domingos, secretary and treasurer.

Friday will be another busy day, winding up with an old-time fiddlers' convention at night.

GIRL MAY RECOVER FROM HER INJURIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Reports from Grady hospital at a late hour Thursday night were to the effect that Miss Cecelia Keating, of 248 South Pryor street, who was injured at 3:30 o'clock Thursday morning when an automobile in which she was riding with four others crashed into a white way post on South Pryor street, has a chance for recovery.

Miss Keating suffered a broken nose, broken jaw, broken arm and internal injuries. Mrs. Lucile B. Hughley, also of 248 South Pryor street, and Otto Studer, proprietor of a meat market at 119 Whitehall street, were arraigned before Recorder Johnson in police court Thursday morning for their part in the ride.

Studer was fined $15.75 for reckless running of an automobile and also told to pay for a new light post. Mrs. Hughley was dismissed, as she claimed that she had been an invited guest on the ride.

The two other occupants of the car escaped injury and also capture by the police.

Officer Paul Morgan, patrolling the South Pryor street beat, witnessed the accident, and told Recorder Johnson of finding four bottles of beer in the machine. Patrolman Brown also testified that it was a miracle to him how the occupants of the machine escaped death as the heavy iron post fell on top of the car and crashed right down among its occupants.

GRAY CAR DOOR NOW BEING USED BY W. & A.

The Gray Car Door company, capitalized at $300,000, has been incorporated under the state laws for the purpose of manufacturing the recently patented Gray car door.

The Gray car door is an invention of J. M. Gray, a long resident of Atlanta, and is designed for freight cars. It is now in operation on the Western and Atlantic railway, where it has received the hearty approval of railway experts and efficiency engineers.

It is an automatic attachment, insuring speed and durability, burglar proof and simple operation.

DR. LANDRUM FILLING FIRST BAPTIST PULPIT

Rev. W. W. Landrum was called to Louisville on Tuesday to attend the funeral of one of the deacons of his church. He will return Friday and will preach at the First Baptist church next Sunday. His subjects are: 11 a. m., "The Man Who Came Back," and at 8 p. m., "The Supreme Inquiry." A large congregation heard Dr. Landrum last Sunday and at the close of the services he was greeted by hundreds of his friends.

MERCHANTS ARE HERE TO BUY FALL STOCK

Merchants of the southeast are busily engaged buying their annual fall stock in Atlanta. Fully 400 were present at the luncheon and reception at the Piedmont Driving club Tuesday afternoon. Many of these have returned home, but others have arrived to take their places.

COTTON BUYERS WILL HOLD MEETING TODAY

North Georgia Cotton Buyers and Manufacturers' association will hold its third annual meeting in the chamber of commerce building today at 11 o'clock. J. D. Moss, Athens, who is president, will call the meeting to order, when it is expected that only routine business will be taken up.

COMMISSION TO EXTEND W. & A. TO THE SEA

fleet so operated. Any connection with the Western and Atlantic railroad, so extended, would bring to it a remunerative traffic from the producing and consuming centers of the North Atlantic coast."

The bill permits the commission to employ engineers to survey the property. It would allow $5,000 for expenses.

Convicts to Aid.

"Said commission," says the bill, "shall also make inquiry of the county authorities of the several counties lying between Atlanta and the seaboard, and ascertain to what extent said counties, through the use of convict labor, or otherwise, would aid the state in the construction of a line extending the Western and Atlantic railroad to the sea."

Friends of this measure argue, like Senator Harrison, that "it is a well-known fact that many commodities that

SENATOR WILLIAM TERRELL HARRISON, of the Twenty-fifth.

He claims the distinction of being the youngest senator Georgia has ever had in her general assembly. He introduced the bill providing for a commission to investigate the proposition of extending the W. & A. from Atlanta to the sea.

could and would come into this state through Georgia ports do not, but instead go to the ports of Baltimore, New Orleans and New York. Such commodities as are destined for distribution in Georgia are re-shipped by rail, thereby subjecting the people of this state to an enormous extra rail charge, which amounts to many times more than the state receives in rentals from the W. & A. "It is stated that it would astonish this commission if they should make inquiry in Atlanta, or any other Georgia towns, among the merchants and manufacturers, as to the amount of material they use, upon which an extra rail rate is charged. It would reveal to them, it is claimed, that the rental received from the W. & A. is, after all, a very small thing when compared to the loss sustained by all the people, because of this condition which can be cured only by the extension of the state road to the sea.

"With the expenditure of six or seven millions of dollars on long credit, these seaboard terminals can be made very valuable, and will increase the efficiency of the W. & A. to such an extent as to enhance the value of the Chattanooga terminals many times," says Senator Harrison. "The state's ownership and control of a port, furthermore, would give the W. & A. control of freight rates in Georgia, thereby serving all of the people of this state. The W. & A., moreover, would become the most desirable railroad property in the south and eliminate forever the spirit of unrest which now prevails as to the manner of leasing the road.

In Need of Efficiency.

"It is not protection the W. & A. needs," contends Senator Harrison, "as much as it needs efficiency. Of itself it is not of sufficient length and importance to serve the purposes now confronting it. The fact that the road is sought to be paralleled goes to show that it is not so much desired by the larger lines.

"Immunity from attack, or threats of destruction, can be had only through strength and preparedness, and a thing which needs protection is weak. It is never desired and always subject to destruction. Efficiency, ability to serve, and resourcefulness create value.

"With the passage of this bill will come information which will enlighten the commission so as to bring about a thorough knowledge of what to do, but better and above all, it will strengthen the W. & A., making it muchly desired. It would then serve a full purpose and the leasing of the road would be an easy matter, destroying once and forever any necessity for 'protection.'"

Estimate of Cost.

In connection with the above remarks concerning Senator Harrison's bill and the house bill of Mr. Cooper, of Ware county, creating the extension committee of the Western and Atlantic railroad, it is in order to submit some figures relating to the construction and all other cost to make the extension of the W. & A. to the coast possible. These figures were prepared by Henry C. Ferriot.

Estimate Per Mile.

80-lb. rail with all fastenings, bolts and spikes	$4,475.00
Cross ties, 2,800 per mile at 50 cents each	1,400.00
Grading	900.00
Labor, track laying and dou-ble-spiking and surfacing.	600.00
Switches	40.00
Culverts	40.00
Telegraph and telephone	200.00
Station houses	1,000.00
Total	$8,655.00
One switch per mile is good average due to there being many miles where they are not needed, one station house per mile is given the same as in the item of switches. Crossings range from $375 to $1,600 each. Water tanks are somewhat high, but not many are needed, and $20,000 is considerable to allow for a railroad line of some less than 300 miles. Two thousand dollars per mile is a very liberal allowance for first-class equipment. In order to determine approximately the entire cost so as to reach an estimate, the cost of water tanks, cattle guards, crossing and equipment, should be prorated over the entire 300 miles and added to the foregoing items of	$8,655.00
Equipment	2,000.00
Crossings	166.00
Water tanks	66.00
Cattle guards	10.00
Total	$10,897.00
20 per cent for unforeseen cost	2,179.40
Total per mile, as above set up	$13,076.40
Total for 300 miles	$3,922,800.00
For dock building	200,000.00
Grand total	$4,122,800.00

These figures are based on experiences actually had in railroad construction in that section of the state covered by the above map from Fort Valley, Ga., to the coast. These figures do not include the cost of the land for terminals, but it must be plain to all that the W. & A. railroad can be extended to the coast and own its terminal property at a figure well within the six-million-dollar mark.

Senator Harrison is superintendent of the public schools at Yatesville, Upson county, in the twenty-fifth district. He is a graduate of Young Harris college and of the University of Chicago. He is also a prominent member of the Masonic lodge.

Youngest Senator.

"I am the youngest senator that ever came to the Georgia legislature," admits Senator Harrison. "Alex Stephens was 30 when he was elected, but I am only 27. This is the first time I've been in Georgia's general assembly."

In the senate the solons consider Mr. Harrison a statesman on the type of Woodrow Wilson. Harrison is cool, calm and conservative. He never loses his head even in the most heated discussion, but he usually makes up his mind to do the right thing when the time comes to vote.

Hyperion Club Dance.

A most enjoyable event of the week was the informal dance given by the Hyperion club Tuesday evening in their club rooms in West End. This was the first of two dances to be given by the club this month and a large number of the members and their friends were present. A special musical program rendered by the orchestra added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE INSPECTED BY FARMERS

Athens, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Nearly a hundred farmers of Walton county, in automobiles, spent the day yesterday in Athens, inspecting the State College of Agriculture, going over the college farm, and asking and hearing answers to definite and specific questions put to the experts at the college. The party included the farm demonstrator of the county, the district high school principal and agricultural teachers, county officers and Monroe newspaper men.

Tomorrow Franklin county will send 250 farmers in machines on the same mission to Athens. This county has visited the college here each year for several years. Later the Jackson county Farmers' union will ru nan excursion to Athens for the same purpose.

Toombs' First Bale.

Lyons, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—The first bale of cotton for the 1915 season was brought here and sold yesterday by John Arnold, a white farmer on the place of Dan Odom, about 5 miles south of Lyons. The cotton weighed 417 pounds, and was sold to a local buyer for 10¼ cents per pound. It graded good middling.

Mr. Arnold brought the first bale of the season here last year.

R. M. Striplin Tells of Plans For Great Cattle Exhibition

While explaining interesting moving pictures of the Minnesota state fair and other exhibitions of cattle and fruit products to the directors of the Southeastern fair, assembled at a banquet in the Chamber of Commerce building, yesterday, R. M. Striplin, manager of the fair, told of plans to hold one of the largest cattle exhibitions in Georgia in conjunction with the corn show this fall.

Mr. Striplin stated that the chief feature of this cattle exhibition would be the fifteen herds of prize beef cattle which would be shown here, November 16-19, by the American Hereford Breeders' association. These cattle are at present at the exposition in San Francisco, and the herds contain some of the finest beef cattle in the world.

This is the first time that the American Hereford Breeders' association has brought its exhibits to the south, and the permit was secured only after a personal trip by Mr. Striplin to Chicago. This association will also offer $5,000 in prizes, and this will be an incentive to others to bring many blooded animals to the fifth annual corn show conducted by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

That many other fine herds would also be entered at the show was also the statement of Mr. Striplin. He pointed out that cattle raisers are beginning to consider Georgia an excellent market for cattle of high class and quality on account of the recent impetus given cattle-raising here, partly through the campaign for diversified crops and the efforts of the agricultural departments of the railroads in the state to bring pure-bred cattle here.

Dr. H. E. Stockbridge said that Colonel I. C. Wade, of Cornelia, would attempt to raise a greater herd of cattle under the favorable conditions of Georgia than the herd with which he won the world championship while he was living in South Dakota sixteen years ago.

V. H. Kriegshaber, vice chairman of the building committee of the fair association, stated that work costing $93,259.16 had been contracted for and ordered so far. Contracts for $78,343.40 had already been let, he said, and work estimated at $14,915.76 would be done by day labor. Only about $15,077 in work is yet to be let out.

R. M. Walker, supervising architect, told the directors that the buildings are to be of concrete, and in this respect they will be far in advance of the structures of the other great fairs of this continent, which are usually constructed of wood. So far there has been a saving of $4,540.84 in the expenditures at the fair grounds. Whenever the bids for the several portions of the two structures now in process of erection were less than the estimates of Architect Walker, they were awarded to the best contractor. In cases where bids exceeded the estimates of Mr. Walker, this work was ordered to be done by day labor under his direction.

Walter Cooper, secretary of the chamber; Alderman Albert Thomson, of the city fair committee, and S. B. Turman, county commissioner, also made short addresses.

ALDERMEN AGREE ON $3,358,000 ISSUE OF CITY BONDS

The aldermanic board Thursday afternoon unanimously concurred in the ordinance passed by council Monday authorizing an election for $3,358,000 bonds for municipal improvements. Mayor Pro Tem. I. N. Ragsdale has announced that he will approve the ordinance as soon as it is sent to him for his signature. The ordinance provides for holding the election on Thursday, September 30.

The ordinance includes the following items:

For Public Schools—$1,000,000.
For Sewers and Disposal Plants—$1,000,000.
For Waterworks—$750,000.
For Fire Department Improvements—$133,000.
For Cyclorama Building at Grant Park—$100,000.
For Grady Hospital—$375,000.

The ordinance carries a special appropriation for the expenses of the election and it is probable that a special bond campaign committee will be formed later by the various institutions affected to work for the bonds.

The aldermanic board passed over the protest of Alderman Jesse W. Armistead, who presided, a resolution setting aside a fund of $200 to defray the expense of printing copies of the evidence in the Beavers trial for members of the general council. Alderman Armistead voted against the resolution and gave notice that a reconsideration would be asked at the next meeting of general council.

$3,000 BAIL REQUIRED OF ACCUSED DYNAMITER

Albany, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Bail in the sum of $3,000 was required of J. W. Belcher, charged with attemping to dynamite the house of Margaret Williams Monday night at the conclusion of a commitment hearing before Justice DeGraffenried today.

A strong chain of circumstantial evidence against Belcher was established by the numerous witnesses examined for the state. The defense was represented by counsel.

It developed that Belcher had made threats against Margaret Williams and she declared her belief that a shot fired at her some time ago through an open window of her room was sent by Belcher.

Belcher had not succeeded in securing bondsmen this afternoon and remained in jail

TOOMBS COUNTY POLITICAL CROP TAKING ON LIFE

Lyons, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—More entries into the local political campaign, and the announcement that S. B. Meadows, of this county, will be a candidate for congress to succeed Dudley Hughes, has caused considerable interest. Mr. Meadows, in a recent interview, said that he had not yet definitely decided to make the race, but was considering the matter, and that he had received flattering encouragement.

In the local field four avowed candidates for representative are out. They are Attorney G. W. Lankford, of Lyons; W. E. Brown, also a lawyer; T. Ross Sharpe and Dr. John M. Meadows. All three are well known, and each seems to have a different platform upon which he is basing his campaign.

The other county offices are being sought by a number of candidates who are already in the field. In fact, quite an interesting time is anticipated before the primary next year.

SPEND SUNDAY, AUGUST 8, AT MT. GILEAD CAMP MEETING

A., B. & A. train leaving Atlanta 7:30 a. m. will stop close to the grounds. Returning will leave Camp Ground stop 6:45 p. m. Round trip tickets only 50 cents.

ROAD TO ENCOURAGE RAISING OF CATTLE BY STATE FARMERS

In continuing its work of introducing pure bred cattle to the portions of the state along its route, the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway has purchased a herd of Short Horn cattle from Major John Cowan, of Max Meadows, Va., through Industrial Agent F. M. Ewing. These are picked cattle and descended from stock imported from England. It is not the purpose of the railroad to make money from this herd, but to show the farmers what this type of animal is capable of doing and to encourage them to raise stock best suited for beef and for milking purposes.

HEAVY RAIN AND STORM DAMAGE WILKES COUNTY

Washington, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Wilkes county was visited Wednesday by a violent wind and rain storm, considerable damage to both crops and property being reported from the northeastern section of the county, near Savannah river. The large barn and ginnery of Andrew McLendon was struck by lightning and destroyed with contents of between 50 and 75 bales of cotton. The roof of a negro church in the same neighborhood was torn off by the wind.

The rain was the first that has fallen over a good portion of this county in four weeks. On account of the continued dry weather, promising fields of corn and cotton have materially deteriorated.

Crackers Open in Lookoutville Today

Edited By Dick Jemison

CRACKERS CLOSE THEIR ROAD TRIP

Will Play Four Games With the Chattanooga Lookouts. Crackers Have Edge on Chattanooga.

DETAIL GAME.

The opening game of the series between the Crackers and the Lookouts this afternoon will be called in detail at Dick Jemison's baseball parlors in the Steiner-Emery building. The game is scheduled to start at 3:30.

The Crackers will close the present road trip with four games with the Chattanooga Lookouts starting today, games being scheduled for today, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday.

The Crackers return home Wednesday, provided one of the games in this series is not rained out. If it is, the team will probably stay over in Chattanooga and play the game off, as Wednesday, August 11, is an off day for both the Crackers and the Lookouts.

The Lookouts have been easy meat for the Crackers this season. On their last visit to Lookoutville, the locals copped three of the four games played, and on the Lookouts' visit to Atlanta the locals won five straight games.

Continuing this clip this time, the locals will not do so bad on the road trip and will be in a position to make a bid for a high place in the standing.

The locals open a three-game series with the Mobile Gulls at Ponce de Leon Thursday, August 12, and immediately after the game Saturday, which will also be an early game, the team hits the road for New Orleans, where they play four games, returning home for their last home stay of the season, finishing the season on the road this year.

Nat Thornton Loses To Chicago Crack In Third Round

Chicago, August 5.—George M. Church, the Princeton star, played true to form in the western tennis tournament at Lake Forest today, easily defeating J. J. Forstall, of Chicago, 6-3, 6-1. Church's victory was one of a half dozen by favorites in the third round, other successful players being Al Lindauer, of Chicago, who won a hard fought match with Nat Thornton, of Atlanta, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3; Walter Hayes and Heath Byford.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LEAGUE LEADERS MEET SATURDAY

What promises to rival anything ever staged in amateur baseball, locally, will be the game that is to be played tomorrow afternoon between the Agoga Feds and the North Avenue Presbyterian teams at Ponce de Leon for the championship of the league.

The Feds have the edge on the game, as they have defeated the N. A. P. boys twice already this season, and have lost to them but once. However, the latter team is out to get an even break on the series, and the Feds will have to travel at their highest gait in order to win.

The Feds are leading the league, being a game and a half ahead of the North Avenue aggregation, and a victory Saturday will mean a pennant to them, as they will then have this honor cinched, no matter what the outcome of the two remaining games is.

The game is scheduled to begin promptly at 3:30, and an admission fee of "two bits" will be charged.

Dublin Wins.

Dublin, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Dublin won from Wrightsville this afternoon by a score of 7 to 2 in a fast game. Wrightsville scored in the first inning, Dublin in the second. The score was tied until the seventh, when Dublin made five runs and won the game. Batteries, Dublin, Smith, T. Roach; Wrightsville, McWhorter, Reddick. Wrightsville is scheduled to play Dublin here Friday.

Perry's Peerless Pitching And Crackers' Clouting Cop Final From Vols

By Blinkey Horn.

Nashville, Tenn., August 5.—(Special.)—Scott Perry came back at the Vols today in the last game and revenged himself for the victory of the Schwartzmen in the opening battle, settling down after the first inning and pitching good ball. The final score was 8 to 4. The Cracker slabman got away to a bad start, hitting three batters in the first inning, which, coupled with a base on balls and Dodge's single, gave the Vols three scores. After that he checked the locals, the last run being a result of a wild heave by Eddie McDonald, after Street had doubled.

Crackers Hit Good.

Tom Rogers started for the Vols, but was wild and hit hard and was relieved by Jack Frost, who was touched up lively by the Cracker batters who found their batting clothes today. Twelve hits for a total of fifteen bases were made by the Smithmen, Lee, McDonald and Moran leading in the stick work. Otto Williams, though he hit safely but once, and that was of the infield variety, managed to get on base four out of his five trips to the plate and by good base running crossed the rubber three times. He was out at the plate once, but Street dropped the ball and Bernhard reversed his decision.

How Crackers Counted.

The Crackers got to Rogers in the third frame and knotted the count after one was out. Williams and McDonald walked and Moran's two-sacker counted Otto. Manning lifted a weak fly to Kircher, but Dick Kauffman slammed a triple to left center and cleaned the sacks. Joe Jenkins grounded to short for the last out.

In the fourth the Crackers added three more and drove Rogers from the rubber. Bisland drove a single through Paulet's legs and was sacrified by Scott Perry. Bizzy reached third on Billy Lee's hopper to third, which he beat out. Williams and Bizzy worked the squeeze play and McDonald shot a single to right field, counting Lee, Baker made a perfect peg to the plate, but Street lost the ball, Williams going to third and McDonald to second. Frost relieved Rogers and tossed Moran's bunt to Street, who dropped the ball, Williams counting. McDonald was out at the plate on Manning's tap to Frost and Moran was run down at third by Street on an attempted double steal.

Singles by Jenkins and Perry, with Bisland's infield out, gave the Crackers a tally in the fifth. With two down in the eighth Williams was safe at first on a close decision and stole second. He scored on McDonald's single to right.

Davis won his game from the picked Sally league in the thirteenth inning when he singled past first base with Williams on third and Colby on second. It was the most exciting game seen here this year, being a pitcher's battle between Davis and Fry. Davis having the best of it from the first. Davis struck out fifteen and gave up six hits, while Ery struck out seven and gave up nine hits.

Colby walked and Davis singled was the way the locals won in the thirteenth. A catch by L. Thrasher was the feature of the game.

New York, August 5.—There was quite an active buying movement in the cotton market this morning with business more general than for some time past, but early advances were not maintained and the close was barely steady at net gains of only 1 to 5 points.

The market opened at an advance of 2 to 3 points in response to the continued firmness of Liverpool, the large spot sales reported in that market, and the absence of any further rain in the southwest. There did not seem to be a great deal of demand at the start, but the western belt forecast for dry weather, and the appearance of Liverpool buying orders seemed to alarm shorts snortly after the call and for a time prices advanced quite rapidly with the active months selling above the low level of last week, but there was considerable realizing at these prices while the demand seemed to taper off, and the market turned rather easier toward midday.

The detailed weather reports showing good rains in Georgia and some other eastern belt sections probably encouraged a renewal of scattered local selling, while bearish sentiment was also promoted by private crop advices, or predictions that cotton would be declared contraband, and prices sagged off to about or a shade under last night's closing figures. The selling, however, was not so aggressive as recently and the market steadied during the afternoon on bull support or renewed covering although the late rallies were not fully maintained.

Port receipts today, 4,591 United States port stocks, 739,439 bales. Exports today, 7,789 bales; so far this season, 13,599 bales.

Spot Demand Encourages New Orleans.

New Orleans, August 5.—Cotton held fairly steady today, standing at a small advance most of the time, although at one period the trading months were about at yesterday's closing level. At the highest of the day prices were 10 to 11 points up. The close was at a net gain of 7 to 8 points.

In the early trading good cables, higher futures than due and heavy spot trading in Liverpool were the main sustaining influence. Rains in the Atlantics and reports that the drouth there had been effectually broken checked the upward trend. Rumors that cototh had been declared contraband of war caused some selling and a recession, but real weakness did not develop. In the afternoon reports that Texas spot market were higher and that exporters were bidding 8 11-16 for middling cotton stimulated buying and the market recovered ground it lost around the middle of the session.

A feature of interest was the receipt here of the first bale of Louisiana grown cotton of the new crop. It was ten days earlier than last year's first bale and was sold at auction, bringing 15 cents a pound.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, August 5.—(Special.)—Cables this morning were again better than due, with spot sales of 14,000 bales. These large sales in Liverpool are beginning to attract attention, as they now make some impression on the Liverpool stock, which has long been pointed to as a strong factor against the market. Liverpool was a buyer here in the early trading, so that prices at one time were some 10 points higher than last night.

As is usual, the local traders and Wall street houses sold freely on the advance, a portion of which was lost before the close. No rains fell in Texas and temperatures show a tendency of rise again, which is, of course, against the crop. Reports from the Atlantic states, despite the recent rains, continue to be very spotted. The local sentiment is still against the market, but rather less confident.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, August 5.—(Special.)—Continued strength in Liverpool and buying here on the part of the market were the underlying factors making for an advance of 10 points in prices early today.

Besides the foreign buying general demand was in large volume and the tone of the market indicated an awakening of interest, stirred by the large sales of actual cotton in Liverpool.

While beneficial rains in the Carolinas and Georgia caused some setback in prices during the afternoon, the market displayed steadiness throughout the day.

WAR SHARES QUIVER BUT CONTINUE RISE

Weakness in Few Specialties and Railroads Prevent Even Display of Strength. Bethlehem Passes 300.

New York, August 5.—The demand for the popular specialties showed no signs of abatement today, and there was another good advance. Public buying, which had given evidence of diminishing, apparently was stimulated anew by yesterday's upturn and a large amount of orders accumulated overnight. Trading was brisk throughout, and total sales were 962,600 shares.

The inability of the war stocks at their current high level was demonstrated again by occasional periods of reaction, but the general course was upward. After the first rush of buying ended the severest relapse came, cancelling most of the early rise, but in the afternoon the movement received fresh impetus. Weakness of a few specialties and railroad shares in the last hour prevented the market from making an even display of strength at the close, but the late relapse was not extensive enough to cut deeply into the gains of most stocks.

Bethlehem Steel maintained its reputation as the most spectacular of the war shares. It passed the 300 mark early in the day and reached 307, an advance of 17 points. Later it relapsed to 301. Another new high record was made by General Motors, at 191⅞.

The urgent demand for United States Steel continued, and the action of this stock gave tone to the whole market. It was bought in blocks of 1,000 to 5,000 shares, and rose to 72½, another new high record since 1912.

Railroad stocks played little part in the forenoon rise, but on the recovery which followed the early relapse they were bought heavily at advancing prices. Rock Island, St. Paul, Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Reading were prominent in the movement. The late selling was directed largely at the railroads, which fell back generally.

Sentiment was governed by the same influences which have prevailed heretofore, and the gossip of the street ran along the familiar lines of improved business conditions, particularly in the steel and affiliated industries, and reports of large war orders. War news played little part in the dealings, although the fall of Warsaw was mentioned as an influence in bringing about the late reaction.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $3,220,000.

United States 4s declined ¼ on call.

Many men who are working, and think themselves capable of doing something better, often secure a BETTER position by advertising in the "Situation Wanted"—holding on to their position until they land a better one. Situation Wanted Ads—

WOMAN THROWS 4 CHILDREN IN WELL; JUMPS IN HERSELF

Montgomery, Ala., August 5.—While in a fit of temporary insanity Mrs. Lee Tatum, aged 30, threw her four children into a fifty-foot well on her farm near Deatsville, Ala., then jumped in herself. Authorities at Deatsville announce that a note had been left by the woman explaining her action, but that the note was destroyed by the husband.

The oldest child was nine years old and the youngest but four months. While the husband was away at a neighboring farm, where he was assisting in some work, Mrs. Tatum is thought to have taken the children to the well and drowned them. None of the bodies bore marks of any violence other than would have been caused by drowning.

LIVE STOCK DROWNED IN FLORIDA FLOODS

Arcadia, Fla., August 5.—High water in the rivers and creeks of this section flooding the valleys and lowlands as a result of the extraordinary rainfall of the past few days has caused damage that will foot up $100,000. Thousands of cattle and hogs have been drowned on the ranges. Bridges have been washed away. Railway tracks have been undermined and train service broken. The Peace river is a raging torrent and country roads are impassable in almost every direction.

CLASSIC CITY IMPROVES WATERWORKS SYSTEM

Athens, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—Athens, while enlarging her waterworks system by the installation of additional filters to meet the growing demands of consumers, is this week installing the new liquid chlorine process of water purification, substituting it for the bicloride of lime treatment, which, while effective, sometimes gave rise to objectionable odor and unpalatable taste in the water.

CITY HALL GOSSIP

BY A. CLOYD GILL

HENDON SAYS HEALTH OFFICE IS NOT THE FULTON COUNTY JAIL.

The similarity of the numbers of the office of the city health department and the Fulton county jail has caused W. S. Hendon, assistant clerk to the board of health, considerable embarrassment recently. The health board number is 856, and the jail number is 956. Persons have been calling for the jail, but are given the health office by central. They ask, "Who is speaking?" The reply usually is, "Mr. Hendon." Then follows the question, "Is that the jail?" Mr. Hendon says he is afraid the time may come when there will be a misunderstanding and his name will become too closely associated with that of the jail.

THIS IS A SHORT STORY ENTITLED: "WHY MAYOR WENT TO FRISCO."

There has been considerable speculation over what led Mayor Woodward, after being so long on regular duty, to break camp and go on a trip to the west. This was explained Thursday by city hall officials, who said that the expositions in California this year were not what led the mayor to the coast, but that he was intent on making a personal inspection of the crematory plant of San Francisco, which was erected by the Destructor Company of New York, the same company that built the Atlanta plant. At about the same time the local plant became involved in litigation, the Frisco plant was rejected by the city officials, and went into court on the ground that the company had not built a plant that would fulfill its contract. The mayor has a report on the plant from the San Francisco city engineer and other officials who made an inspection. An effort was made to introduce in the local case some of the facts brought out in the Frisco case, but it was ruled out by the master.

ASPHALT LAID ON GILMER STREET WITH THE NEW LUTZ HEATERS.

The city construction department is placing an asphalt surface on the Belgian block on Gilmer street, and when completed, there will be a smooth paving from Five Points to the Auditorium-Armory, which is located on Gilmer. The work is being done by the use of the two Lutz heaters leased some time ago by the city. J. H. Goldsmith, deputy in the office of City Clerk Walter Taylor, has been detailed to secure signers to petitions to general council asking that other streets be resurfaced with asphalt. As soon as a majority of the abutting property owners sign such a petition council authorizes the work done.

SEVERAL MEMBERS CITY COUNCIL CONFINED TO HOMES BY ILLNESS.

Several city officials are confined to their homes by illness. Councilman A. W. Farlinger is ill at his country home at Cornella; Alderman C. C. McDonald is ill at his home in Atlanta, and Chief of Construction Nym Hurt is also confined to his home. All were reported Thursday as improving.

COUNCILMAN JOHNSON ON VACATION AT LAKE TOXAWAY.

Councilman Edwin Johnson left early Thursday morning for a month's vacation at Toxaway Inn, N. C. He stated that he had been so busy with city affairs, particularly as affected the police department, that he had had little time to attend to his own business, but that with the first cessation of activities he had decided on a vacation. He announced that he would return to Atlanta for the election of a captain of police Tuesday night, if he was needed by the board. Half a dozen police officers are applicants for the captaincy made vacant by the election of W. M. Mayo as chief of the department. In the event a sergeant is promoted, there will be an opening there for one of the officers.

BOARD OF HEALTH FURNISH STREET SWEEPERS UNIFORMS.

All of the seventy-five city sweepers will be equipped today with two brown uniforms, which will be furnished without charge by the board of health. The shipments was delivered to the board Thursday and will be distributed today. The uniforms are well made up, attractive and it is believed that they will be serviceable and will make members of the department put up a much better appearance.

PARK COMMITTEE MAKES INVESTIGATION LAKEWOOD PARK.

A special committee from the park commission, of which W. W. Waites is chairman, visited Lakewood Park Thursday afternoon to investigate conditions there and to confer with J. Billet, who holds the concession privileges there. The board recently received a petition signed by 180 residents of the community near Lakewood, in which they ask that the board force Billet to vacate his lease. He is now holding the lease as a tenant at will and can be put out at any time by the park commission.

ANSLEY HOTEL NEAR BEER LICENSE SIGNED BY RAGSDALE.

After being favorably reported by the police committee, passed by general council but finally vetoed by Mayor Woodward, the application for a license for a near beer saloon at the Hotel Ansley has again been passed by general council and Mayor Pro Tem. I. N. Ragsdale formally signed it Thursday. Mayor Woodward announced after disapproving the paper that he made a mistake in doing so.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Nothing spectacular has so far been registered in the real estate field for August, but the large number of calls and the small sales which are in excess of the last two months keep the pulse of business at a fairly even beat. The construction of the Connally building, which was retarded for weeks in laying the foundation, and the Thurmond building, on Whitehall street, are both being brought rapidly to completion. The small amount of building compared with this period of last year is reflected in the building permits, which so far amount to $25,325. The amount on August 5, 1914, was $46,399.

The ground floor of the Empire Life building will afford office space for ticket offices for six railroads after September 1. They are the Southern, the Atlanta and West Point, the Georgia, the Southern Pacific, the S. A. L. and the A., B. and A. Forrest & George Adair handled the lease for the Southern, which will move from the ground floor of the Peters building, where store spaces will be sub-divided.

Husband in Love With Manicurist, Says Suing Wife

Mrs. Nellie Crowell Asserts She Endured Telephone Operator and Widow, But Finally Patience Ended.

An alleged overly amorous husband, who is charged with distributing his affectfons upon telephone operator, manicurist and pretty widow, is blamed for the matrimonial discord of Mrs. Nellie B. Crowell and F. B. Crowell, Jr., in the wife's divorce suit.

Mrs. Crowell appeared for divorce Thursday afternoon. She gives three instances where, she says, her husband involved himself in "eternal triangles," and names two women, one of them being Miss Mae Entreken, a young manicurist, who has worked in a number of local hotels.

The wife charges that in 1911 her husband became infatuated with a young widow named Watson, whose charms were so great that he felt compelled to bring her to his home. Mrs. Crowell states, that she endured the situation until she verged upon nervous prostration, then fled to the home of her mother in North Carolina.

The first instance of the husband's distribution of affections, Mrs. Crowell charges, was in 1907—a year after their marriage in White Plains, Ala.—when Crowell fell in love with a girl telephone operator in Charlotte, N. C. His affair lasted, it is charged, until it became a mater of town scandal.

While her husband was in love with the telephone girl and the widow, Mrs. Crowell says she was a faithful and loving wife, hoping that some day he would lose his affection for other women and concentrate his heart upon her.

When he fell in love with the manicurist, however, Mrs. Crowell avers it was too much for her endurance, whereupon she separated from him and planned divorce.

AT THE THEATERS

"The Girl From His Town."

(At the Strand.)

At the Strand theater today charming Marguerita Fisher will be seen in the "Girl From His Town." It is from a novel by Marie von Vorst and is said to furnish an interesting photo play. Many of the settings are novel ones and carry the spectator all the way from Red Rock, a buzzing little town in Montana, to London when the social season is at its height. One of the best scenes in the picture depicts the interior of the Regent theater, one of London's celebrated playhouses. Miss Fisher, who is a very beautiful woman, has been seen in Atlanta in a number of pictures, the best known of which is perhaps "The Quest," in which she made a very favorable impression. C. Elliott Griffen plays the leading part opposite Miss Fisher and makes his first screen appearance in this picture. The balance of the cast is exceptionally good and includes Beatrice Van, Joseph Harris, Joseph Singleton, Fred Gamble and Robyn Adair.

"The Girl From His Town" is a truly American play, with every one of the four parts crowded with romance, love and unusual climaxes.

The concert number played by the Strand orchestra today will be "The Blue Danube Waltzes" (Strauss).

CERTIFIED PROPERTY STATEMENTS

A prominent western credit man says: "Perhaps most of us have exalted ideas of our own property, and an applicant for credit might, in good faith, make statements which must be discounted 50 per cent."

If banks and the larger business houses were to insist upon certified statements by public accountants, there is no doubt but that the annual loss from bad debts of some one hundred-odd million dollars would be substantially reduced.

The services of a qualified certified public accountant cost far less than the average loss of money through poor credit.
